PREFACE

Issue #1 of Volume 5 of this Journal was mailed late in February, 1979. We wish it could have been in your hands last Fall. This issue, #2, was scheduled for mailing in May. Again, unanticipated delays were experienced. We found that in spite of our efforts, there were some errors - a few copies had some duplicate pages while other pages were missing; appropriate style was not followed in some places; the listing of Associate Editor should have read "To be appointed;" and the listing of Editorial Board should have read, "Roy Marlow, Ricks College (and others to be appointed)." Roy's appointment as associate editor has since been confirmed, as well as Russell Crane's appointment to the board. Others are still pending.

If you have ever worked on a publication, you already know how hard it is to communicate accurately and effectively with the printer, proofread, check and change, and then check again, etc. If not, you should have the experience!

Your patience is appreciated - and, frankly, a bit of a surprise. After the first issue was mailed and the errors discovered, I braced myself for the flood of letters that I thought would undoubtedly come - letters of criticism and faultfinding. But there were none; so I must conclude that you are very patient and kind. The only other possible conclusion would be that you are apathetic, a conclusion that I reject in view of the kind of people you are and the interest you have shown in AMCAP. Please, fellow members, confirm my conclusion! But do not hesitate to offer suggestions and constructive criticism. In any case, let us hear from you! Again, "Letters to the Editor" will be gladly received.

You will find quite a wide variety of articles in this issue - all, we feel, are thought-provoking and stimulating. Your comments are solicited. Another issue (#3 and the last in this volume), is planned for late August or early September and four issues are tentatively planned for Volume 6. We would be pleased to consider your contribution for publication in one of these issues.

Henry L. Isaksen, Editor
