

Available now: CDs and DVD of Jussi Björling (and a CD of Gösta B.)

Your new copy of the JBS Newsletter features Stephen Hastings's definitive review of Bluebell's final CD issue, the 2-disk set Jussi Björling: Concerts in Finland and the USA (1940-1957).

Fundamentally important points made in that review are that "the Björling we hear here is at his very best," with his singing of five Sibelius songs "unmatched in its beauty" and in sound that is "restored to exceptionally vivid effect by Seth Winner."

These unique and beautiful CDs now exist because of much dedicated effort (explained in the accompanying CD booklet), as coordinated by the Jussi Björling Societies for their members.

Also available now in NTSC format (compatible with USA DVD-players) is Torbjörn Lundqvist's documentary on Jussi's life. Here are comments on this DVD sent us by long-time JBS member Eldon Wolf: "I had no idea what to expect ... these scenes of Jussi, as the Swedes knew him, were deeply moving. I was teary-eyed several times during the entire hour and seventeen minutes!"

Also available for the first time on CD is Oak Grove's collection of Gösta Björling's recordings made during 1937 - 1957, reviewed by Stephen Hastings in your current Newsletter.
