Maxwell Institute Open House

The Neal A. Maxwell Institute for Religious Scholarship invites you to an open house from 7:00 to 9:00 PM in room 3215 of BYU's Wilkinson Center on Thursday, 24 August 2006, during Campus Education Week. This will be an occasion for you to meet authors, editors, directors, and friends and to celebrate the formation of this new BYU institute. We know you will enjoy greeting members of the Maxwell Institute family, learning about recent and upcoming projects, talking about the filming of Journey of Faith, and discussing many other engaging topics.

PUBLICATIONS

Journey of Faith: From Jerusalem to the Promised Land

(Maxwell Institute, 2006), edited by S. Kent Brown and Peter Johnson, is a book version of the popular FARMS DVD documentary Journey of Faith. The book contains all of the commentary and artwork from the DVD plus commentary that was not included therein, movie stills from the DVD, and an appendix on the FARMS documentary Golden Road: The Ancient Incense Trail. As a bonus, the book includes a free DVD entitled The Making of Journey of Faith, parts of which aired on KSL TV in April 2006. Available in stores in September.

The Lost 500 Years: What Happened Between the Old and New Testaments

(Deseret Book, 2006), edited by S. Kent Brown and Richard Neitzel Holzapfel, is a revised, illustrated version of the earlier Between the Testaments (2002) by the same authors. Brown and Holzapfel have captured the ebb and flow of political, social, and religious life during this remarkable period of crippling crises, brilliant inventiveness, cautious adaptation, and painful transitions. The Neal A. Maxwell Institute for Religious Scholarship encourages and supports research on the Book of Mormon, the Book of Abraham, the Bible, other ancient scripture, and related subjects. The Maxwell Institute publishes and distributes titles in these areas for the benefit of scholars and interested Latter-day Saint readers.

Primary research interests at the Maxwell Institute include the history, language, literature, culture, geography, politics, and law relevant to ancient scripture. Although such subjects are of secondary importance when compared with the spiritual and eternal messages of scripture, solid research and academic perspectives can supply certain kinds of useful information, even if only tentatively, concerning many significant and interesting questions about scripture.

The Maxwell Institute makes reports about this research available widely, promptly, and economically. These publications are peer-reviewed to ensure that scholarly standards are met. The proceeds from the sale of these materials are used to support further research and publications.
