

Overview of the 2004 JBS Congress in Pictures

Photos by Pelle Jansson and Hans Thunström

Congress delegates gather for registration in the entrance hall of Stockholm's Royal Opera House, September 9.

At the Jussi Björling Museum, Congress members were welcomed by Jan-Olof Damberg and Caroline Edman.

During the Congress's final banquet on September 13, there was some enthusiastic singing. Here Walter Rudolph leads Greg Fitzmaurice and the group in singing "Land, du välsignade." Walter manages a public radio station in Utah and has presented many programs on Jussi.

The City of Stockholm hosted an elegant smörgåsbord luncheon and tour at the landmark City Hall on September 10. Here JBS-USA President Dan Shea expresses appreciation for the welcome provided by official host Bo Bladholm (rear, right). Also pictured are members Barry Crawford of the Leonard Warren Foundation, and Ed Durbeck.

Barry Crawford standing in Jussi Björling's Torg (Square) with Willy Gordon's statue of Jussi.

Harald Henrysson with Elisabeth Söderström.

Ann-Charlotte Björling with Per Grundén.

Congress participants gather in Stockholm's Music Museum, September 10.

Sue and Darrell Cannon of Long Beach meet Jussi, via Emil Näsval's bust, while in the background Don Thomson is interviewed by a local newspaper.