New in Paperback

by Janet Francis

Following are titles of books recently appearing in paperback, either for the first time, or after a long absence from the marketplace. All are recommended as decent reading.

Just the ticket for the young adult who will be seeing the new-born Berlin this summer. Where and how to go and what’s worth seeing and affordable—all in English.

Shelley suddenly finds her Mother’s set rules and point-of-view unbearable, but things take on perspective when she spends a fabulous year in California.

This is a busy time for Molly in the Pee Wee Scouts when she finds out it’s easier to bake than to skate!

Matt’s friend, Parker, has a special interest in finding out where the body they found in the creek came from. His mom may be in love with a murderer.

Lucky can find luck in every disaster, even skateboarding, but finding friends is harder.

Baby-bug sitting is hard to do for Ladybug and Fly, but Spider comes up with some helpful ideas.
Getting it all together has always been the most important high school problem, but T. J., Caro, Josh, and Alison are dealing with some pretty big problems when a buddy tries to kill himself.

Pud and his main person, Susie, find a real treasure right in his bone hole.

For Carley, this summer in Minnesota is just a stop-gap on the way to more trouble. Then he meets David.

Each day of the year is in this book and chock full of sport history that happened on that day like November 5, 1966 when Virgil Carter of B.Y.U. achieved his college football yardage record.

Biking is the newest sport and this tells you all you'll ever need to know about what, how, where, and when, with lots of pictures.

Dr. Schindler doesn't seem to do much to help Jenny forget that awful time when Mr. Hagen tried to kill her—but there are some surprises in store for both of them.
