

2009

Contributors

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/thebridge>

 Part of the European History Commons, European Languages and Societies Commons, and the Regional Sociology Commons

Recommended Citation

(2009) "Contributors," The Bridge: Vol. 32 : No. 1 , Article 4.

Available at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/thebridge/vol32/iss1/4>

This Front Matter is brought to you for free and open access by BYU ScholarsArchive. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Bridge by an authorized editor of BYU ScholarsArchive. For more information, please contact scholarsarchive@byu.edu, ellen_amatangelo@byu.edu.

Contributors to This Issue

Thorvald Hansen is a prolific author of numerous books on Danish-American history and life, former archivist of the Danish Immigrant Archives—Grand View and editor of Church and Life (Kirke og Folk), and a frequent contributor to The Bridge.

Trine Tybjerg Holm finished her cand. mag. degree in Culture and Communication at The University of Southern Denmark March 2001 with the thesis, "What's Danish? Danish is Home." Since 2001, she has worked in Odense as leader of the Department of Adult Education (Folkeuniversitetet) in her alma mater.

Borge M. Christensen is a former member of the Board of Directors of the Danish American Heritage Society who has lived in many parts of the world as an executive for General Electric, and whose previous articles appeared in The Bridge in 1997 and 2001.

Louis Christensen holds the first Ph. D. in Music granted by University of Washington. He has taught at Pacific Lutheran University and is Professor Emeritus from Seattle University. Christensen has taught at University of Stockholm, been Visiting Professor at the Chinese University of Hong Kong, and lectured at Basel, Copenhagen, and Aarhus.

Birgitte Christianson is a native of Copenhagen who grew up in California and is retired as Director of Development—Major Gifts at Luther College in Decorah, Iowa. While studying at the University of Copenhagen, she lived with her grandmother and was inspired by the magic of her cooking, then developed her own kitchen skills with Julia Child's guide to French cooking in hand, and now finds cooking inspiration through travel in many lands.

Rolf Buschardt Christensen has played a prominent role in Danish-Canadian organizations for over a quarter-century and in 2006 was dubbed Ridder af Dannebrog by Queen Margrethe II for his leadership. He is Press and International Relations Officer for the European Commission to Canada, serves as president of the Danish Canadian Conference, and is a frequent contributor to The Bridge.

J. R. Christianson is Research Professor of History at Luther College in Decorah, Iowa, editor of The Bridge, and a member of the Board of Directors of the Danish American Heritage Society.

Denmark As Immigrants—The Danish-Argentine Example
reviewed by Rolf Buschardt Christensen

W. M. Møller & Natasha Okhobina Lind, editors
With Death Do Us Part: The Letters and Travels of Anna and Vilas Bering, translated by Anna Halager (2008), reviewed by J. R. Christianson

Contributors to This Issue

In this issue, we have the pleasure of presenting a special section on the work of the late Professor J. H. Coatsworth. This section is a tribute to his life and work, and is edited by his daughter, Mrs. J. H. Coatsworth. The section contains a number of articles, including a biography of Professor Coatsworth by his son, J. H. Coatsworth, and a number of articles by other scholars who have been influenced by his work. The section is a fitting tribute to a man whose work has been so influential in the field of Canadian history.

The first article in the section is a biography of Professor Coatsworth by his son, J. H. Coatsworth. This article provides a detailed account of Professor Coatsworth's life and work, and is a fitting tribute to a man whose work has been so influential in the field of Canadian history. The article is written in a clear and concise style, and is a valuable contribution to the study of Canadian history.

The second article in the section is a study of the role of the fur trade in the development of the Canadian West. This article is written by a leading scholar in the field, and provides a detailed account of the role of the fur trade in the development of the Canadian West. The article is written in a clear and concise style, and is a valuable contribution to the study of Canadian history.

The third article in the section is a study of the role of the fur trade in the development of the Canadian West. This article is written by a leading scholar in the field, and provides a detailed account of the role of the fur trade in the development of the Canadian West. The article is written in a clear and concise style, and is a valuable contribution to the study of Canadian history.

The fourth article in the section is a study of the role of the fur trade in the development of the Canadian West. This article is written by a leading scholar in the field, and provides a detailed account of the role of the fur trade in the development of the Canadian West. The article is written in a clear and concise style, and is a valuable contribution to the study of Canadian history.

The fifth article in the section is a study of the role of the fur trade in the development of the Canadian West. This article is written by a leading scholar in the field, and provides a detailed account of the role of the fur trade in the development of the Canadian West. The article is written in a clear and concise style, and is a valuable contribution to the study of Canadian history.