The purpose of this Association shall be:

- a) To promote fellowship, foster communication, enhance personal and professional development, and promote a forum for counselors and psychotherapists whose common bond is membership in and adherence to the principles and standards of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, both in their personal lives and professional practice.

- b) To encourage and support members' efforts to actively promote within their other professional organizations and the society at large the adoption and maintenance of moral standards and practices that are consistent with gospel principles.

Article 1, Section 2, AMCAP by-laws (as amended Sept. 30, 1981).

AMCAP supports the principles of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints; however, it is an independent, professional organization that is not sponsored by, nor does it speak for, the Church or its leaders.

Subscriptions

Subscriptions to the AMCAP Journal are provided to AMCAP members. For information concerning membership, write to the address indicated below.

Change of Address

AMCAP members anticipating a change in address should forward the new address to AMCAP to ensure the accurate delivery of the AMCAP Journal and other AMCAP correspondence. For change of address and all similar correspondence, write to:

Call for Manuscripts

The AMCAP Journal seeks manuscripts of interest to the broad, interdisciplinary membership of the Association. Appropriate manuscripts may be reviews, theoretical articles, case studies, position papers, or reports of empirical studies, which address the association's mission as stated above. Articles may relate to the theory of counseling and psychotherapy, family therapy, social work, or may deal with the application of Church doctrine to an understanding of psychological processes, or to righteous or ethical practice.

Manuscripts submitted for publication should conform to the style of the Publications Manual of the American Psychology Association (4th ed., 1994), available from the American Psychological Association, Order Department, P.O. Box 2710, Hayattsville, MD 20784.

Double-check your references. Do text citations agree exactly (spelling of names, dates) with reference list entries? Manuscripts without reference list errors are surprisingly rare. Please retain the original text citations in your possession should the need arise for them to be checked. Follow the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association in citing your references.

Get written permission to use any material (tables or figures) from another source and send permission with your manuscript. Cite source, giving complete information.

Type everything—including footnotes and references—double-spaced, on a six-inch line, 25 lines per page. Manuscripts should generally not exceed 20 pages. Use plain white paper. A dot matrix printer may be used. Also, when possible, send a copy of the manuscript on a computer diskette either in Apple Macintosh or IBM PC-compatible format. (You can send your electronic copy of the manuscript in WordPerfect® or Microsoft Word® word processing formats or as an ASCII text file.)

Give the name, complete address, zip code, office phone number, and home phone number of each author on a cover sheet. Please list authors' names on the manuscript in the order which you would like them to be printed. Indicate which author should receive editorial correspondence. During the review process authors will remain anonymous.

The AMCAP Journal is a refereed journal. All manuscripts received in the format specified are reviewed by the editor and two consulting editors. Manuscripts will be acknowledged by the editor upon receipt. The review process takes approximately three to four months. Authors can expect to hear within that time regarding the status of their manuscripts. If revisions are required, the editor may choose either to accept revisions without additional review by consulting editors or put the manuscript through the entire review process again when the revised manuscript is received. Once a manuscript is accepted for publication, three to six months will elapse before the article appears in published form in the AMCAP Journal.

Authors should keep a copy of their manuscript to guard against loss. Send three copies of your manuscript to the editor:

Editorial

I promised in my last editorial that my next one would be short. I do wish to thank the authors who have contributed to this issue of the Journal. Thank you for investing the time and energy to share your ideas and research. On behalf of all members of AMCAP, I would like to express appreciation to Sister Chieko N. Okazaki of the Relief Society General Presidency, for allowing us to publish the wonderful address she gave at the AMCAP Convention in the fall of 1993. I also wish to thank the AMCAP Journal Associate Editors, Aaron P. Jackson and Robert L. Gleave, who have provided much assistance with the Journal during this past year. Special thanks is also due to Richard G. Ellsworth, an AMCAP member who donated many hours of time editing the manuscripts that appear in this issue of the Journal. I also appreciate the expertise and efforts of our technical editor, Valerie Holladay, and the assistance of my editorial assistant, John Rector.

I hope you enjoy reading this issue of the Journal

Your colleague,
P. Scott Richards
