Instructions for Contributors

The AMCAP Journal is a peer-reviewed journal addressing the interface between revealed religion and psychology; specifically, issues of spirituality and the influence of LDS church doctrine in psychotherapy, including the study of counseling in a spiritual context. It is devoted to influencing the field of counseling and psychotherapy through the study of related scholarship in religion, LDS doctrine, spirituality and ethics throughout the world. Appropriate manuscripts may be literature reviews, clinical case reviews, research reports, educational program reports, media reviews (books, audiovisuals, Internet resources), scholarly commentary, theoretical or descriptive clinical practice articles, reports of AMCAP Convention presentations, interviews, or letters to the editor. Articles may relate to theories of counseling and psychotherapy, family therapy or social work, or may deal with the application of spirituality or church doctrine to understanding psychological processes or questions of ethical practice.

Submission Information: Manuscripts submitted to the AMCAP Journal are accepted for consideration with the understanding that they represent original material, have not been published elsewhere, and are not being considered for publication elsewhere. All manuscripts (including tables, charts, or graphics) should be submitted via e-mail to the Editor: Rachel E. Crook Lyon, amcap_journal@byu.edu

Cover Letter and Transmittal Letter (Copyright Information): Please include in the cover letter a mailing address for the corresponding author, a daytime telephone number, a fax number, and an e-mail address. A transmittal letter also must accompany the manuscript, signed by all authors, which contains the following:

"In consideration of the Association of Mormon Counselors and Psychotherapists (AMCAP) taking action in reviewing and editing my (our) submission, the undersigned author(s) hereby transfers, assigns, or otherwise conveys to AMCAP all copyright ownership rights in the manuscript, and all rights subsumed thereunder under the copyright laws of the United States and all foreign countries. In the event the manuscript is published by the AMCAP Journal, Author(s) represents and warrants that Author(s) is the sole author of the manuscript, that the manuscript is original except for necessary quotations or paraphrases for which the source has been credited, and that the manuscript does not infringe upon the copyright or other ownership rights of any other person or entity or contain any matter that may be libelous or otherwise actionable; and Author(s) agrees to defend, save harmless and indemnify AMCAP and its Journal Editors, officers, directors, agents and employees, and each of them, from and against any and all claims, losses, liability damages, and expenses for breach of these warranties."

If there are extensive quotations (over 500 words) in the manuscript, authors must obtain letters of permission for their use. A copy of the permission-granting letter should accompany the manuscript.

Review Process: The Editor and two or more members of the Editorial Board will review all papers submitted. Reviewers will remain anonymous. Manuscripts will be acknowledged by the Editor or Associate Editor upon receipt. Every effort is made to inform authors of publication decisions within three months. If revisions are required, the Editor may choose either to accept revisions without additional review, or to put the revised manuscript through the entire review process again. Once a manuscript is accepted for publication, six to twelve months will elapse before the article appears in published form in the AMCAP Journal.

Style Specifications: Manuscripts should be prepared according to the style guidelines given in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 5th edition, 2001. The entire manuscript should be double-spaced with separate pages for each of the following: title page, abstract, references, footnotes, tables, figures and figure captions.

Author Information: All information identifying the author(s) must only be on the title page.

- (1) the number of words in the text of the paper
- (2) title of the article — usually approximately 10 - 14 words
- (3) author(s) name(s), degree(s), and institutional affiliation(s). If the author(s) is not affiliated with an institution, please list city and state.
- (4) running head (i.e., an abbreviated title of less than 50 characters, including spaces)
- (5) a brief statement describing the author's affiliation, acknowledgements, and which author should receive correspondence (with a permanent address, including e-mail address). For example: John Smith, Ph.D. is a Professor of Psychology at McGill University in Montreal. Jane Jones, MD is a psychiatrist in private practice in Buffalo, New York. This study was supported by Health Canada NHRDP Grant #8888-8888-888, and a grant by Pfizer Inc. to Dr. Jones. The authors thank Jane Doe for her helpful comments on the manuscript. Correspondence concerning this article should be addressed to John Smith, Ph.D., Dept. of Psychology, McGill University, 300 Penfield Ave., Montreal, Quebec, Canada H3H1B1. E-mail: <jsmith@mcgill.edu.ca>

Abstract: The abstract should summarize the paper in 75 to 300 words.

Text: Use the active voice as much as possible and use the first person only when referring to the author.

Patient Anonymity: Both ethical and legal considerations make it necessary to protect a patient's anonymity in reports. Identifying information (including the use of initials) should be avoided, and any identifying information in the discussion of the personal history should be adequately disguised.

Headings: First-level headings should be centered with upper and lower case letters. Second-level headings should be at the left margin with upper and lower case letters. Third-level headings should be in italics and indented with upper and lower case letters.

Text Citations: Use the author-date citation method; i.e., author surname and year of publication. For example: (Jones, 1998). If there is more than one author, use an ampersand [&] in citations. When a work has more than two authors, cite all authors the first time the reference occurs; in subsequent citations only cite the surname of the first author, followed by "et al." For example: (Smith, Johnson & Jones, 1999), then (Smith, et al., 1999).

Reference List: Every work cited should be listed in alphabetical order, by author surname, on a separate page titled "References." Use an ampersand [&] when there are two or more authors. See the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association for specific details regarding citation styles for books, journals, and other materials.

TYPES OF ARTICLES AND USUAL LENGTHS

Special Articles are overview articles that bring together information on a topic related to the Journal's mission (as outlined in the first paragraph, above). Such articles are usually no more than 7000 words in length (excluding tables and references). It is advisable to check with the Editor before submitting this type of article to be sure that a similar one is not already being processed.

Regular Articles describing research, multiple related case reports, theoretical papers and so forth, usually contain no more than 4000 words (excluding tables and references).

Case Reports can be quite interesting, and a report of a series of cases can be especially important and useful. Even single-case reports warrant publication if they illustrate new insights or are in some way unique. Single-case reports should contain no more than 2000 words. The organization of a case report includes: a brief introduction with a literature review, the case history, a concise description of the treatment intervention, a report of results with follow-up, and a discussion of the significance of the case.

Interviews: Please contact the Editor before submitting an interview article.

Book and Media Reviews (including audiovisual and Internet resources): The Journal actively solicits media reviews from qualified reviewers. Media review manuscripts should follow the guidelines on this page and in the Journal's Guidelines for Book and Media Reviewers.

Letters to the Editor should include a notation that the letter is for publication. The letter must be signed by all authors. Any letter discussing an article in the AMCAP Journal will be sent to the author of the article for his or her reaction before publication. All letters may be edited before publication.
