With Healing in His Wings

Edited by Thomas A. Wayment,
Camille Fronk Olsen

At times, prophets have compared various aspects of the Savior's ministry to the mother hen, teaching that he has healing in his wings. The Savior likewise used that metaphor to describe his own power to offer refuge to his followers. By likening himself to a mother hen, the Savior testifies that he will cover us symbolically with his wings to save us if we, like the chicks, will come to him. This volume discusses the Savior, his life, his mission, the Atonement, and his healing influence in our lives today. Contributing authors are Elder Gary J. Coleman, Elder John M. Madsen, Brad Wilcox, Brent L. Top, Andy C. Skinner, and Gaye Strathearn.

Zion's Trumpet: 1852 Welsh Mormon Periodical

Edited by Ronald D. Dennis

The epic story of the early Welsh Mormons was virtually unknown until Professor Dennis personally mastered nineteenth-century Welsh—a major challenge even for a linguist. After writing impressive books on Welsh immigration and literature, he focused for a dozen years on producing “facsimile translations,” or reproductions of early Welsh missionary texts and volumes of official Welsh Mormon periodicals produced during the great harvest of converts from that land. Working virtually alone, Dennis continues to work to preserve the full story of how the early preaching of the restored gospel inspired both fiery debate and heroic sacrifice among the people of Wales. This volume is another important disclosure in this saga, part of Dennis’s continuing efforts to translate all early Welsh Mormon literature.

Go Ye into All the World

Edited by Reid L. Neilson and Fred E. Woods

Just as the risen Christ charged his Apostles, “Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature,” he charged his latter-day followers to do likewise. Using the Prophet Joseph Smith as his instrument, the Lord created his missionary system early in the Restoration. The Church has used every righteous means available to take the gospel to the world, and the ways and means continue to expand. The outreach of the Church through missionary work is nothing short of amazing. This volume focuses on the growth and development of Mormon missionary work since the early days of the Restoration.

Exploring the First Vision

Edited by Samuel Alonzo Dodge and Steven C. Harper

This volume explores some of the seminal articles that examine Joseph Smith's First Vision, which were written by the foremost experts who have studied it for half a century. This book preserves and shares that work. Those who study the First Vision today depend very much on the works of the scholars that are reprinted in this volume. The book includes articles by and interviews with James B. Allen, Richard L. Anderson, Milton V. Backman Jr., Richard L. Bushman, Steven

C. Harper, Dean C. Jessee, Larry C. Porter, and John W. Welch.

Tales from the World Tour: The 1895-1897 Travel Writings of Mormon Historian Andrew Jenson

Edited by Reid L. Neilson and Riley M. Moffat

What was the heritage of Jenson's expedition to Mormondom abroad? How did his two-year fact-finding mission help shape the balance of his life and the Latter-day Saint historical enterprise? Jenson's global tour was an unprecedented adventure in Latter-day Saint history. Through his own hard work and the seeming hand of Providence, historian Andrew Jenson found his niche as a laborer in the cause of the Restoration. He pursued the goal of collecting and writing comprehensive, accurate, and useful histories of the Church with a rare passion.

Light and Truth: A Latter-day Saint Guide to World Religions

Roger R. Keller

Do we as Latter-day Saint Christians really need to know about other faiths? Do we not know all we need to know? Sometimes we create our own skewed version of other faiths. If we are to be a world church, it is helpful to understand and appreciate all the good that God has given to persons beyond the Latter-day Saint pale and to represent it accurately. President George Albert Smith said to persons of other faiths: “We have come here as your brethren . . . and to say to you: ‘Keep all the good that you have, and let us bring to you more good, in order that you may be happier and in order that you may be prepared to enter into the presence of our Heavenly Father.’”

Civil War Saints

Edited by Kenneth L. Alford

This book was written for the sesquicentennial of the Civil War, especially the 150th anniversary of the active federal service of Captain Lot Smith’s Utah Cavalry company, an active-duty military unit that served for ninety days of federal service guarding a portion of the Overland Trail. Although Utah Territory was physically removed from the Civil War battlefields and the resulting devastation, the war had a deep impact on the territory and its inhabitants.

Staff Spotlight

Church History Review Board Chairman

Kenneth L. Alford is an associate professor of Church history and doctrine at Brigham Young University. After serving almost thirty years on active duty in the United States Army, he retired as a colonel in 2008. While on active duty, Ken served in numerous personnel, automation, acquisition, and education assignments, including at the Pentagon, eight years teaching computer science at the United States Military Academy at West Point, and four years teaching strategic leadership as Professor and Department chair at the National Defense University in Washington, DC. He has published and presented on a wide variety of subjects. He served as chair of the 2012 international Teaching Professor Conference, and his most recent book, Civil War Saints, was published last summer. Ken and his wife, Sherilee, have four children and ten grandchildren.

Student Editing Intern

McKenna Johnson is an English major from Fort Worth, Texas, minoring in editing. She has loved being an intern at the Religious Studies Center, where she gets to constantly learn about the gospel and Church history as well as work with a fantastic team of fun and intelligent people. McKenna likes reading, writing, and editing, and works on the staff of A Woman's Experience, the women's studies journal at BYU. She also likes learning yoga and is always excited when her attempts to make gluten-free, gastroparesis-friendly, and good-tasting food succeed.

Student Editing Intern

Austin Ballard is an undergraduate from Rexburg, Idaho, studying English language with an editing minor. He is a self-proclaimed "language nerd," fluent in Portuguese from his mission in Brazil, and having studied French, German, Latin, and Anglo-Saxon as elective college courses. He loves editing and learning about Church history and research at the Religious Studies Center, and hopes to work in a publishing company after he graduates. Austin enjoys spending time with his wife, Karen, and daughter, Arlee, and loves reading epic fantasy novels, listening to podcasts, drawing comics, blogging, cooking, and camping.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATOR

PERSPECTIVES ON THE RESTORED GOSPEL

Submission Guidelines

The Religious Educator serves the needs and interests of those who study and teach the restored gospel of Jesus Christ on a regular basis. The distinct focuses are on teaching the gospel; publishing studies on scripture, doctrine, and Church history; and sharing outstanding devotional essays. The beliefs of the respective authors do not necessarily reflect the views of the Religious Studies Center, Brigham Young University, or The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Complete author guidelines are provided at rsc.byu.edu/RSCStyleGuide.pdf. All manuscripts should be submitted electronically to rsc@byu.edu. Hard-copy submissions are accepted only if an electronic copy is included.

Manuscripts should be double-spaced, including quotations. Authors should follow style conventions of The Chicago Manual of Style, 16th edition, and the Style Guide for Publications of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, 3rd edition, as reflected in a recent issue of the Religious Educator.

Manuscripts will be evaluated by the following questions:

1. Does the manuscript address a clear thesis? Does the argument proceed cautiously and logically? Is the writing clear? Is it engaging and interesting? If not, why?

2. To what degree is the author knowledgeable on the topic as a whole, as shown, for example, by content, phrasing, contextualizing, thorough use of the best sources, and bibliography? Does the author adequately acknowledge and deal with opposing views? If not, why?

3. Does the manuscript present significant new data or new perspectives? What is its main contribution? Will people want to read this ten years from now? Does it make a contribution without resorting to sensationalism or controversy?

4. Does the author follow the canons of responsible scholarship (uses sound and fair methodology; documents arguable facts)? If not, why?

5. Is the manuscript faith-promoting? Is the piece in harmony with the established doctrine of the Church?

If a manuscript is accepted, authors will be notified and asked to provide photocopies of all source materials cited, arranged in order, numbered to match the endnotes, and highlighted to show the quotations or paraphrases. Photocopies of source material must include title page and source page with the highlighted quotations.
