The Mid-Atlantic States region is the home to a vast array of archival and library resources that have long-term research value for scholars and students interested in the history, politics, commerce and culture of the countries of East Asia and in American interaction with China, Japan and Korea. A series of fifteen panels between 1977 and 1991 presented a wide range of papers about some of these resources at the annual meetings of the Mid-Atlantic Region/Association for Asian Studies (MAR/AAS). Organized and chaired by Frank Joseph Shulman and involving over sixty librarians, archivists and researchers, these panels were entitled:

“Specialized Archival and Library Resources for the Study of East Asia within the Mid-Atlantic Region” -- Princeton University, October 29, 1977

“Archival and Library Resources on East Asia in the Washington, D.C. Area” -- George Washington University, October 29, 1978

“Archival and Library Resources on East Asia within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania” -- Clarion State College, October 28, 1979

“Archival and Library Resources on East Asia in the Metropolitan New York Area” -- Drew University, October 25, 1980

“Archival and Library Resources on Japan and China within the State of Maryland” -- University of Maryland at College Park, October 17, 1981

“Preserving East Asian Library and Archival Resources within the Mid-Atlantic States Region” -- University of Pittsburgh, October 23, 1982

“China and Japan within the Mid-Atlantic States Region: Library and Archival Resources in New York, Philadelphia and Washington” -- University of Pennsylvania, October 29, 1983

“Resources for the Study of American Involvement in East Asia and Traditional Medicine in China: Archival and Library Holdings in the Mid-Atlantic States Region” -- Princeton University, November 11, 1984

“Archival and Library Resources in the Metropolitan Washington Area for the Study of China, Japan and Korea” -- George Washington University, October 26, 1985

“East Asia Archival and Library Resources in the Philadelphia Area” -- University of Delaware, November 1, 1986
“Modern Science, Technology and Medicine: Archival and Library Resources on China and Japan in the Mid-Atlantic States Region” -- Lehigh University, October 31, 1987

“The Celestial Empire and the Early American Republic, 1784-1844: Old China Trade Documents in the Mid-Atlantic States Region” -- Indiana University of Pennsylvania, October 22, 1988

“From Georgetown to Suitland: Archival and Library Resources on East Asia in the Washington, D.C. Area” -- Georgetown University, October 21, 1989

“Legacies from the Past: Library and Archival Resources for the Study of China and Japan in New York State and Northern New Jersey” -- Rutgers University, October 20, 1990

“Rare and Unique Archival and Library Resources on China and Korea in the New York Metropolitan Area” -- Lock Haven University, November 2, 1991

Ninety percent of the papers presented at these panels have been published—for the most part within the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin (of the Association for Asian Studies, Inc.)--and collectively they constitute an introductory guide to a significant body of research materials.

In order to facilitate scholarly efforts at identifying these resources and to assist the respective archives and libraries in publicizing their holdings and services among a broader audience, the following bibliography presents a classified and indexed listing of sixty-four papers delivered at these panels. The titles of the papers, the names of their authors and their institutional affiliations (at the time of the delivery of their papers), the MAR/AAS annual meetings at which they were presented, brief descriptive annotations, and related publication data are provided. Extensive indexes--by (a) author, (b) the names and geographical locations of the various archives, collections, libraries, and universities, (c) the historical periods covered by these resources, (d) the periodicals in which the papers have appeared, and (e) the major subjects of the papers--conclude the bibliography.

More papers (twenty-seven in all) deal with China than with any other Asian country. Eighteen papers in turn focus on Japan, fifteen deal with two or more East Asian countries, and the remaining four focus on Korea and on Tibet respectively. Altogether they cover many topics ranging from agriculture and the arts to medicine and European refugees. As may be expected, however, the largest number of them are concerned with resources for the study of history during the nineteenth and the first half of the twentieth centuries, with the China trade between the major ports of the U.S. east coast (especially Philadelphia) and the port of Canton, and with American missionary activities in China and Japan.

A collected volume of both these papers and the papers delivered at an envisaged second series of MAR/AAS panels may eventually be prepared for publication. Until that time, the following bibliography should be able to advance scholarship in East Asian Studies by assisting faculty, students and librarians in gaining a better understanding of the research opportunities available to them through the use of archival and library resources in the Mid-Atlantic States region.
PANEL PAPERS

East Asia -- General

1. The "Golden Chain": Manuscripts on East Asia at the Maryland Historical Society
-- Karen A. Stuart, Maryland Historical Society. Presented at the Maryland, 1981 annual meeting.
An overview of the China and Japan-related correspondence, accounts, diaries, documents, memoranda, research notes and newspaper articles concerned with maritime commerce, immigration, military and foreign relations, missionary activities, travel and exploration, and the arts and material culture held by the Manuscript Division of a private society established in Baltimore in 1844. Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 73 (February 1984), pp. 17-25.

2. Off the Beaten Track: Discovering Sources for East Asian History in the Historical Manuscripts and Archives Department of the University of Maryland Libraries, College Park
-- Lauren R. Brown, University of Maryland at College Park. Presented at the George Washington, 1985 annual meeting. An overview of the scattered historical materials concerning American interaction with East Asia that one can find in several collections including the papers of Millard E. Tydings, William J. Sebald, Bock Ark, and Gordon W. Prange. Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 81 (May 1987), pp. 9-12.

-- Frank Joseph Shulman, University of Maryland at College Park. Presented at the George Washington, 1978 annual meeting. Introductory remarks concerning the 413-page Scholars' Guide to Washington, D.C. for East Asian Studies (China, Japan, Korea, and Mongolia) that was scheduled for publication in 1979 by the Smithsonian Institution Press. The Guide surveys numerous libraries, archives, manuscript depositories, museums, and map and picture collections as well as government agencies, research organizations, and academic centers dealing with East Asian affairs. 3 pp. typescript, unpublished.

4. Seventeenth to Twentieth Century Cultural and Diplomatic Materials on East Asia
in the Special Collections of the Lauinger Library, Georgetown University
-- John W. Witek, S.J., Georgetown University. Presented at the Georgetown, 1989 annual meeting. Centers on the library's holdings of manuscripts and rare books from or about East Asia, among them letters from early Jesuit missionaries in China, manuscripts of the contemporary Japanese novelist Endō Shūsaku, the papers of such Western diplomats as Hamilton King, Charles Pergler and Thomas Murray Wilson, and seventeenth and eighteenth-century rare books that provided Europeans with reports about China, Japan and other areas of Asia. Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 89 (February 1990), pp. 16-23.

East Asia -- Agriculture

5. Historical and Contemporary East Asian Resources in the Department of Agriculture Library
East Asia -- Arts and Culture

East Asia -- Doctoral Dissertations

7. Treasures and Trivia: The Universe of Microfilmed Dissertations on East Asia at the Library of Congress -- Frank Joseph Shulman, University of Maryland at College Park. Presented at the George Washington, 1985 annual meeting. Introduces the single most comprehensive collection anywhere of American doctoral dissertations, with particular focus on those titles that are concerned with various aspects of East Asian civilization, history and contemporary affairs. Most items have been acquired through copyright deposit or by subscription from University Microfilms International. Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 80 (December 1986), pp. 11-16.

East Asia -- Military History

8. Resources on East Asia at the U.S. Army Military History Institute [Carlisle Barracks] -- D. Clayton James, U.S. Army Military History Institute and Mississippi State University. Presented at the Clarion State, 1979 annual meeting. On manuscript holdings, memoirs, audio-visual records, and publications related to the involvement of the U.S. Army in East Asia, particularly during World War II (in both the China and the Pacific theaters), the Allied occupation of Japan and the American occupation of the Ryukyus, and the Korean War. Among these are the papers of Matthew B. Ridgway, Paul W. Caraway, Andrew D. Bruce, Alvan C. Gillem, Edward M. Almond, and Charles L. Bolte. Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 60 (October 1979), pp. 11-16.

9. Selected Resources in the Naval Historical Center on the Asiatic Squadron and the Asiatic Fleet in East Asia, 1865-1942 -- Martha L. Crawley, Naval Historical Center. Presented at the Princeton, 1984 annual meeting. On archival and library sources (written primarily in English) documenting the U.S. naval presence off the waters of China and Japan, the lives and views of American Navy men in the area, the Navy's reactions to the growth of Japanese military power and U.S. plans for naval operations against Japan, and the final days of the U.S. Navy's Asiatic Fleet. Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 76 (February 1985), pp. 9-14.

East Asia -- Missionary Activities and Religion

10. The Library of the Institute for Advanced Studies of World Religions: East Asian Holdings and Services -- Lena Lee Yang, Institute for Advanced Studies of World Religions, State University of New York at Stony Brook. Presented at the Drew, 1980 annual meeting. Surveys a collection of more than 50,000 volumes dealing with Buddhism, Hinduism and Islam that includes important resources for the study of Chinese and Japanese canonical literature, Buddhist schools (e.g., T'ien-t'ai), and Buddhist art. Note: The Institute has since relocated to R.D.#2, Route 301, Carmel, New York. Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 64 (February 1981), pp. 37-44.
11. Quakers Journey to the Orient: East Asia Material in Friends Historical Library of Swarthmore College -- Albert W. Fowler, Swarthmore College. Presented at the Delaware, 1986 annual meeting. Identifies the East Asia-related resources—most notably the publications, manuscript writings, and other papers of the Japanese educator and scholar Nitobe Inazō (1862-1933) as well as those of his brother-in-law Joseph Elkinton—found in one of the repositories for the official Philadelphia Quaker records. Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 83 (February 1988), pp. 1-4.

13. Resources on China, Japan and Korea within the Presbyterian Historical Society Archives in Philadelphia -- Kay L. Dove, University of Maryland at College Park. Presented at the Princeton, 1977 annual meeting. An overview of the official and personal reports, voluminous correspondence, diaries and other papers that document the activities of Presbyterian missions in East Asia during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and that altogether constitute a major resource for the social, cultural, and political as well as religious history of the region. Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 54 (November 1977), pp. 27-30; and in Ch’ing-shih wen-t’i (Washington, D.C.), vol. 4, no. 3 (June 1980), pp. 130-34.

China — Refugees in Shanghai

41. White Russian and Jewish Refugees in Shanghai, 1920-44, as Recorded in the Shanghai Municipal Police Files, National Archives, Washington, D.C. — Marcia R. Ristaino, Library of Congress. Presented at the Georgetown, 1989 annual meeting. Containing unique materials from the records of the British-run municipal police in Shanghai, the files (a significant part of the voluminous archives of the International Settlement police force) illuminate the leadership, composition, activities and experiences of the White Russians and the Jews in Shanghai. They are also valuable for research on such other topics as Chinese communist and Comintern activities, contemporary labor movements, and women and youth activities. Published in Republican China (Urbana, Ill.), vol. 16, no. 1 (November 1990), pp. 51-72.

China -- Social History through Gazetteers

Japan -- Allied Occupation of Japan (1945-1952)

43. The History and Development of Japanese Education during an Era of Significant Change: Books and Pamphlets from the Years 1945-1949 in the Gordon W. Prange Collection, University of Maryland at College Park Libraries -- Frank Joseph Shulman, University of Maryland at College Park. Presented at the Georgetown, 1989 annual meeting. Describes a group of some 10,000 postwar Japanese-language publications (particularly textbooks, study and self-study books, teacher's manuals, handbooks, curriculum guides, and educational treatises) concerned with both precollege and special types of education that were the focus of a special processing and cataloging project supported by the National Endowment for the Humanities. 24 pp. typescript, unpublished (copies available from the author).

44. Political Change during the Allied Occupation of Japan (1945-1952): The Justin Williams Papers in the East Asia Collection, McKeldin Library, University of Maryland -- George William Ware, Jr., University of Maryland at College Park. Presented at the Maryland, 1981 annual meeting. On the collection of personal papers, memoranda, correspondence, and reports of Justin Williams, Sr. (the chief of the Legislative Division, Government Section, Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers, 1946-1952) that document parliamentary, political and constitutional change in Japan immediately after World War II. Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 72 (October 1983), pp. 1-18.

45. The Preservation of Japanese War Crimes Trials Records in the U.S. National Archives -- John Mendelsohn, U.S. National Archives. Presented at the Pittsburgh, 1982 annual meeting. Surveys the documents found in four major record groups--among them materials about the International Military Tribunal for the Far East, the Japanese incarcerated in Sugamo Prison, and the trials conducted by the U.S. Army in Yokohama, Manila and China--that are concerned with the prosecution of individual Japanese for criminal activities in East and Southeast Asia during World War II. Some of the ongoing efforts to preserve these records are delineated and evaluated. Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 70 / 71 (February / June 1983), pp. 35-42.

46. Press Reform in Occupied Japan (1945-1952): The Records of the Press and Publications Branch, Information Division, Civil Information and Education Section of the Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers at the National Archives and Records Administration, Suitland, Maryland -- Nicholas J. Bruno, Annapolis, Maryland. Presented at the Georgetown, 1989 annual meeting. A detailed examination, in historical perspective, of twelve boxes of records that testify to the efforts of Major Daniel C. Imboden (chief of SCAP's Press and Publications Branch) and his staff to establish a free and democratic press in Japan and to carry out various reforms in the fields of newspaper, book, and magazine publishing. Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 89 (February 1990), pp. 1-15.

48. Records and Related Documents from the Allied Occupation of Japan in the Washington, D.C. Area: The Program of the National Diet Library for Microfilming and Acquiring Valuable Research Materials -- Masaaki Chiyo, National Diet Library (Tokyo). Presented at the Pennsylvania, 1983 annual meeting. Details the Japanese government's efforts to process and comprehensively collect in microform the records of the General Headquarters of the Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers (GHQ/SCAP) and other Occupation-related materials such as State Department documents housed at the National Archives and Records Service. Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 73 (February 1984), pp. 1-16; and with minor changes under the title "The Project of the National Diet Library for Microfilming and Acquiring Records and Related Documents Concerning the Allied Occupation of Japan in the Washington, D.C. Area" in the National Diet Library Newsletter (Tokyo), no. 68 (July 1984), pp. 1-12.

Japan -- Arts and Culture

Japan -- Contemporary Affairs

51. The Holdings of the Japan Documentation Center, East Asian Institute, Columbia University, New York City -- Tamiyo Togasaki, Columbia University. Presented at the Princeton, 1977 annual meeting. Describes a collection of current, "fugitive", Japanese and English-language social science materials (including seminar and conference reports, political party and labor union documents, and items made available by government organizations) on modern Japan established by the East Asian Institute in 1970. Note: The Center was subsequently disbanded. Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 55 (March 1978), pp. 52-54.

Japan -- Labor

52. Labor Developments in Japan during the Late 1940s and Early 1950s: The Papers of Richard L.G. Deverall in the Catholic University of America Archives -- Chiyono Sata, Catholic University of America. Presented at the Princeton, 1984 annual meeting. Discusses the life of an American who served as Chief of GHQ/SCAP's Labor Education Branch, as an Asia representative of the American Federation of Labor's Free Trade Union Committee, and as Special Assistant to the Assistant General Secretary of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions, and presents a selected listing of his papers. Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 81 (May 1987), pp. 1-8.

Japan -- Local History

Japan -- Missionary Activities and Religion

54. East Asian Resources in the Quaker Collection, Haverford College -- Elisabeth Potts Brown, Haverford College. Presented at the Delaware, 1986 annual meeting. An overview of the manuscript material that covers a broad spectrum of both the personal and the formal reports of American Quakers about Japan and about Americans in Japan since the 1880s. Included are the archives of the Japan Committee of the Philadelphia Yearly Meeting and the papers of Elizabeth Gray Vining and Esther Biddle Rhoads. 5 pp. typescript, unpublished.

Japan -- Rare Books

1980 annual meeting. On a collection of some 1,600 Japanese-language works (primarily Tokugawa and early Meiji period imprints in the areas of literature, religion, science, and geography, as well as woodblock print maps) collected by or presented to William Elliot Griffis (1843-1928) during the years shortly after the Meiji Restoration when he taught Western science in Japan. Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 63 (October 1980), pp. 40-47.

Japan -- Science and Technology

57. Access to Current Japanese Scientific and Technical Literature in English: Selected Sources within the Mid-Atlantic Region -- Herman Baron, DIANE Publishing Company, and Geetha A. Rao, Drexel University. Presented at the Lehigh, 1987 annual meeting. Argues that greater attention should be paid to online data bases which contain significant English-language material from Japanese sources in the area of science and technology and which are increasingly accessible to people in the Mid-Atlantic States region. Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 84 (June 1988), pp. 20-21.

Japan -- U.S.-Japanese Relations

60. Opening the Door to Japan: Resources for the Study of Townsend Harris in New York City -- Barbara J. Dunlap, City College of the City University of New York. Presented at the Rutgers, 1990 annual meeting. An overview of the journal, letters, papers, and other extant records of Townsend Harris (1804-1878), the first American Consul General and Minister to Japan, available at the City College of the City University of New York, together with a brief discussion of the related papers of Mario Cosenza (at City College) and Kate Drinker Janvier (at the New York Public Library). Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 92 (February 1991), pp. 8-13.

Korea -- General

Washington, 1985 annual meeting. Describes the Library's automated information retrieval systems (MUMS and SCORPIO), various specialized files, search techniques and strategies, and related trends in library computerization that have important applications for research in Korean studies. Published in the Korean and Korean-American Studies Bulletin (New Haven, Conn.), vol. 2, no. 3 (Fall/Winter 1986), pp. 11-14, and in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 83 (February 1988), pp. 5-9.

Korea -- North Korean Affairs

62. North Korean Captured Records at the Washington National Records Center, Suitland, Maryland -- Thomas Hosuck Kang, Library of Congress. Presented at the George Washington, 1978 annual meeting. Describes the historical background, analyzes the content, and discusses the ways of accessing a voluminous array of records (primarily in Korean but also in Japanese, Russian, Chinese and English) concerning political, diplomatic, economic, educational, construction-related, and military activities in North Korea, 1945-1950. The records were seized by U.S. military forces during the Korean War. Published in the Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin, no. 58 (February 1979), pp. 30-37.
