Contributors to This Issue

Borge M. Christensen previously appeared in The Bridge as the author of an article published in 1997. He has lived in many parts of the world as an executive for General Electric and with his wife, Lotte, took a four-and-a-half month study cruise around the world in 1999-2000. He is a member of the Executive Board of the Danish American Heritage Society.

Thorvald Hansen is an eminent authority on Danish-American life and a frequent contributor to The Bridge, where his most recent article appeared in the last issue. He is editor of Church and Life, published by the Danish Interest Conference, and is a member of the Executive Board of the Danish American Heritage Society. He is retired as Professor of History and Director of the Danish Immigrant Archives—Grand View College.

Birgit Flemming Larsen is Assistant Archivist of the Danish Emigration Archives (Det Danske Udvandrerarkiv) in Aalborg and a frequent visitor to the USA. She has written and edited widely on Danish emigration to various parts of the world. Her article on the statue of Hans Christian Andersen in Chicago appeared in The Bridge in 1998.

J. R. Christianson is editor of The Bridge and Research Professor of History at Luther College.

Rick Burns is Executive Director of The Danish Immigrant Museum in Elk Horn, Iowa. He has a B.A. degree in History and Scandinavian Studies from Brigham Young University and an M.B.A. from the University of Phoenix.
