Joseph Smith's Seer Stones

By Michael Hubbard MacKay and Nicholas J. Frederick

This book discusses the origins of Joseph Smith's seer stones and explores how Joseph used them throughout his life in a way that goes beyond translating the Book of Mormon. It also traces the provenance of the seer stones once they leave his possession.

The authors also examine how the Book of Mormon itself provides a storyline about the history of seer stones, which also helped Joseph Smith learn about his own prophetic gifts. Finally, this book explores how Joseph Smith took his own experiences with seer stones and created a theology of seer stones that became closely linked with his unique doctrines of exaltation.

Foundations of the Restoration: Fulfillment of the Covenant Purposes

Edited by Craig James Ostler, Michael Hubbard MacKay, and Barbara E. Morgan

This book is a compilation of essays from the 45th annual Brigham Young University Sydney B. Sperry Symposium titled The Foundations of the Restoration. The keynote address by Robert L. Millet highlights the restoration of plain and precious truths. Readers will learn how we understand LDS history and doctrine, about the beliefs declared in the Articles of Faith and how we apply their truths, about the development of temples and temple ordinances, and about the restoration of true Sabbath worship. Also included are chapters on Church newspaper editor and hymn writer William W. Phelps's contributions to our understanding of the restoration of the gospel; the historical development of sustaining members of the First Presidency and Council of the Twelve as prophets, seers, and revelators; and the harmony and counsel needed in their declaring doctrine and making administrative decisions.

A Reason for Faith: Navigating LDS Doctrine & Church History

Edited by Laura Harris Hales

A Reason for Faith was written to do just as the title implies: provide reasons for faith by offering faithful answers to sincere questions. Before the Internet, historical and doctrinal questions not addressed in the curriculum of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints were mostly found in the scholarly articles of academic journals. This is no longer the case. These topics are now widely debated and discussed online and in other forums. And when members of the LDS Church come across information that is unfamiliar, they may feel surprise, fear, betrayal, or even anger.

Staff Spotlights

Student Editor

Born and raised in a suburb just south of Denver, Tyler is a proud Coloradan. He is currently studying history with minors in editing and business management at BYU and loves working as an editing intern at the RSC. He finds Church history fascinating and believes in the importance of the RSC’s mission—publishing groundbreaking works on Church scripture, doctrine, history, and culture. His favorite hobbies include camping, hiking, traveling, reading history books, playing his harmonica, participating in deep discussions around campfires, and spending time with his wife, Katelyn.

Student Editor

Jessica Neilson is a senior majoring in English language and minor-ing in editing. She has grown up in the same house in Bluffdale, Utah, for her whole life; in fact, her first time moving was to attend Utah State University after graduating from high school. After two rewarding years going to school in Logan, she transferred to BYU, where she has loved the rigorous coursework, gospel-centered environment, and inspiring peers and mentors around her. Jessica relishes reading and playing sports, particularly basketball and volleyball. She enjoys working as an editing intern for the Religious Studies Center, where she appreciates the gospel knowledge she is able to gain and the uplifting atmosphere in which she can work.

Student Media Specialist

Angela Lee has always had a passion for communications and media. She was raised in a multicultural household, which prepared her with the bilingual skills necessary to adapt when her family moved to Guadalajara, Mexico, for a few years; however, she is proud to call Mesa, Arizona, home. Currently she is a senior at Brigham Young University majoring in public relations; she plans to graduate in the spring of 2017. After graduation she hopes to study different cultures and their communication tactics. Angela has loved working with the RSC because of the amazing content she gets to work with and the educational and spiritual effect it has on her. RE

PERSPECTIVES ON THE RESTORED GOSPEL

Submission Guidelines

The Religious Educator serves the needs and interests of those who study and teach the restored gospel of Jesus Christ on a regular basis. The distinct focuses are on teaching the gospel; publishing studies on scripture, doctrine, and Church history; and sharing outstanding devotional essays. The beliefs of the respective authors do not necessarily reflect the views of the Religious Studies Center, Brigham Young University, or The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Complete author guidelines are provided at rsc.byu.edu/styleguide. All manuscripts should be submitted electronically to Joany_Pinegar@byu.edu.

Manuscripts should be double-spaced, including quotations. Authors should follow style conventions of The Chicago Manual of Style, 16th edition, and the Style Guide for Publications of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, 4th edition, available at the site listed above.

Manuscripts will be evaluated by the following questions:

1. Does the manuscript address a clear thesis? Does the argument proceed cautiously and logically? Is the writing clear? Is it engaging and interesting? If not, why?
2. To what degree is the author knowledgeable on the topic as a whole, as shown, for example, by content, phrasing, contextualizing, thorough use of the best sources, and bibliography? Does the author adequately acknowledge and deal with opposing views? If not, why?

3. Does the manuscript present significant new data or new perspectives? What is its main contribution? Will people want to read this ten years from now? Does it make a contribution without resorting to sensationalism or controversy?

4. Does the author follow the canons of responsible scholarship (uses sound and fair methodology; documents arguable facts)? If not, why?

5. Is the manuscript faith-promoting? Is the piece in harmony with the established doctrine of the Church?

If a manuscript is accepted, authors will be notified and asked to provide photocopies of all source materials cited, arranged in order, numbered to match the endnotes, and highlighted to show the quotations or paraphrases. Photocopies of source material must include title page and source page with the highlighted quotations.

Editorial Questions

For questions or comments, email us at rsc@byu.edu or write to Religious Educator, 167 HGB, Provo, UT 84602-2701.

The Religious Educator Is Going Digital

In January 2017, the Religious Educator will be adding a digital subscription option. The cost of a digital subscription will be $10 a year. A regular subscription, which includes a physical copy of the journal as well as digital access, will now be $15 a year.

Due to rising postage costs, we will no longer be able to offer a mailed physical copy of the journal to subscribers outside of the continental United States. All foreign subscriptions will now be offered only in the digital format.

Subscriptions

Online (preferred method)

Place orders online at subscribe.byu.edu.

By Mail

Fill out the subscription form online at tre.byu.edu. Click "Mail-in Order Form." Print the form and include a check for the amount shown on the form. Mail both to the address shown on the form.

Failure to inform Religious Educator of an address change in a timely manner may result in missed issues without compensation or replacement. If a subscription is placed after the first mailing of an issue, there may be a delay until the second mailing occurs.

Subscription Questions

Subscription questions should be sent via email to rsc@byu.edu and should include "RE Subscriptions" in the subject line.

Back Issues

Back issues are available for a limited time online. Available back issues are listed on the subscription page and may be purchased with or without a subscription. If an issue is not listed, it is out of print but may be viewed in our back issues archive at rsc.byu.edu/tre/volumes. Back issues may be purchased for $5 each (shipping and handling included).
