Give Ear to My Words: Text and Context of Alma 36–42

EDITED BY KERRY M. HULL, NICHOLAS J. FREDERICK, AND HANK R. SMITH

The presentations in this volume were delivered at the BYU Sidney B. Sperry Symposium, and the topics focus on Alma's teachings on various doctrines to his sons Helaman, Shiblon, and Corianton found within Alma 36–42. The chapters in this volume are organized into four sections: (1) doctrine, (2) historical content, (3) parents and children, and (4) literary structure, devices, and techniques. Tad R. Callister, former Sunday School General President, was the keynote speaker. The diverse backgrounds of the contributors provide a variety of academic and theological lenses through which readers can better understand Alma's doctrinal expositions. The range of topics covered and the contrasting perspectives will appeal to a broad audience and expand the minds and understanding of its readers.

Business and Religion: The Intersection of Faith and Finance

EDITED BY MATTHEW C. GODFREY AND MICHAEL HUBBARD MACKAY

Historians have increasingly examined how economics and business have influenced religion and religious practices, and these examinations have provided better understandings of race, gender, and ethnicity within American religion. As one scholar has noted, looking at the intersection of economics and religion “allows historians in a given place and time to rethink what is going on in a broad sweep of the American religious experience.” Papers from the BYU Church History Symposium reveal that the field of economics and finance have much to offer to Latter-day Saint history.

The Rise of the Latter-day Saints: The Journals and Histories of Newel Knight

EDITED BY MICHAEL HUBBARD MACKAY AND WILLIAM G. HARTLEY

Newel Knight (1800–1847) was one of the very earliest Latter-day Saint converts and maintained a lifelong friendship and close association with Joseph Smith Jr. The journals of Newel Knight are part of a handful of essential manuscript sources that every historian of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints relies on to understand its early history.

New Testament History, Culture, and Society: A Background to the New Testament Texts

EDITED BY LINCOLN H. BLUMELL

This volume offers valuable perspectives from biblical scholars on the background of the New Testament texts, including the Jewish and Greco-Roman cultures of the time. The book is divided into several themes, including Jesus in the Gospels, the apostle Paul, New Testament issues and contexts, and what transpired after the New Testament period. It ranges from the intertestamental period to the First Jewish Revolt of AD 66–73 and the canonization of the New Testament. Over forty New Testament scholars and experts contributed to this comprehensive volume, which identifies further readings and includes detailed general and citation indexes.

Life Beyond the Grave: Christian Interfaith Perspectives

EDITED BY ALONZO L. GASKILL AND
ROBERT L. MILLET

Surely no subject has captured the attention of men and women like that of death and the life beyond. Millions have sought with Job for answers to the timeless question, “If a man die, shall he live again?” (Job 14:14). And if there is a future state, what is its nature? How best may mortal men and women prepare for it? Indeed, death has ever remained life’s most awesome mystery. In this book, representatives of different Christian faiths draw on their distinct religious traditions to address the topics of death and what lies beyond the grave.

The New Testament: A Translation for Latter-day Saints, A Study Bible

THOMAS A. WAYMENT

This new translation renders the New Testament text into modern English and is sensitive to Latter-day Saint beliefs and practices. This translation is more readable and accessible for a wider range of readers than the King James Version. The original paragraph structure of the New Testament is restored and highlights features such as quotations, hymns, and poetic passages. New and extensive notes provide alternative translations, commentary on variant manuscript traditions, and historical insights. Where applicable, the Joseph Smith Translation has been included. The notes contain the most complete list of cross-references to New Testament passages in the Book of Mormon and Doctrine and Covenants that has ever been assembled.

The Tragedy and the Triumph

EDITED BY CHARLES SWIFT

The Atonement of Jesus Christ, which includes his Resurrection, provides cause for celebration and rejoicing throughout the Christian world. Because of Jesus Christ and his infinite and eternal Atonement, all mankind who came to this earth are given the gift of resurrection and immortality. This is truly the most powerful story of triumph over tragedy. Authors include Bruce C. Hafen, Richard Lyman Bushman, and Susan W. Tanner.

The Book of Mormon: Another Testament of Jesus Christ, Maxwell Institute Study Edition

EDITED BY GRANT HARDY

This exquisitely produced volume presents the official Latter-day Saint edition of the Book of Mormon in an attractive, accessible, readable version that brings to Latter-day Saints the helpful features that have been part of standard Bible publishing for decades: paragraphs, quotation marks, poetic stanzas, section headings, and superscripted verse numbers. The latest Latter-day Saint scholarship is reflected in its brief, thoughtfully considered footnotes, although the focus is always on the text itself—its wording, structure, and interconnections—allowing the book’s sacred message to be heard anew. The Maxwell Institute Study Edition, produced by believing scholars, is ideally suited to both new readers of the Book of Mormon and also those who know the book well and have loved its teachings and testimony of Christ for many years.

PERSPECTIVES ON THE RESTORED GOSPEL

Submission Guidelines

The Religious Educator serves the needs and interests of those who study and teach the restored gospel of Jesus Christ on a regular basis. The distinct focuses are on teaching the gospel; publishing studies on scripture, doctrine, and Church history; and sharing outstanding devotional essays. The beliefs of the respective authors do not necessarily reflect the views of the Religious Studies Center, Brigham Young University, or The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Complete author guidelines are provided at rsc.byu.edu/styleguide. All manuscripts should be submitted electronically to Joany_Pinegar@byu.edu.

Manuscripts should be double-spaced, including quotations. Authors should follow style conventions of The Chicago Manual of Style, 17th edition, and the Style Guide for Publications of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, 5th edition, available at the site listed above.

Manuscripts will be evaluated by the following questions:

1. Does the manuscript address a clear thesis? Does the argument proceed cautiously and logically? Is the writing clear? Is it engaging and interesting? If not, why?
2. To what degree is the author knowledgeable on the topic as a whole, as shown, for example, by content, phrasing, contextualizing, thorough use of the best sources, and bibliography? Does the author adequately acknowledge and deal with opposing views? If not, why?

3. Does the manuscript present significant new data or new perspectives? What is its main contribution? Will people want to read this ten years from now? Does it make a contribution without resorting to sensationalism or controversy?

4. Does the author follow the canons of responsible scholarship (uses sound and fair methodology; documents arguable facts)? If not, why?

5. Is the manuscript faith-promoting? Is the piece in harmony with the established doctrine of the Church?

If a manuscript is accepted, authors will be notified and asked to provide photocopies of all source materials cited, arranged in order, numbered to match the endnotes, and highlighted to show the quotations or paraphrases. Photocopies of source material must include title page and source page with the highlighted quotations.
