

1-1-1985

Company Commander at An Trach II

Howard A. Christy

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/byusq>

Part of the Mormon Studies Commons, and the Religious Education Commons

---

Recommended Citation

Christy, Howard A. (1985) "Company Commander at An Trach II," BYU Studies Quarterly. Vol. 25 : Iss. 1 , Article 20.

Available at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/byusq/vol25/iss1/20>

This Poetry is brought to you for free and open access by the Journals at BYU ScholarsArchive. It has been accepted for inclusion in BYU Studies Quarterly by an authorized editor of BYU ScholarsArchive. For more information, please contact scholarsarchive@byu.edu, ellen\_amatangelo@byu.edu.

Company Commander at An Trach II

They came out of the smoke;
The shells and the bombs
and the napalm had done their work.

The grandmother was burned black,
her hair gone, her skin in shreds;
She would probably die.

The mother brought me her son,
Then sank to her knees
and unhooked her long black hair and began to sway side to side
and wail the wail of death.

The son was young and sweet and he died as I held him,
his lovely brown eyes glazing.

The daughter, also young but much older now,
beat her fists upon my chest.

—Howard A. Christy