

2-1-2011

Bibliography of the Published Writings of Warren M. Tsuneishi (1921-2011)

Frank Joseph Shulman

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/jeal>

BYU ScholarsArchive Citation

Shulman, Frank Joseph (2011) "Bibliography of the Published Writings of Warren M. Tsuneishi (1921-2011)," Journal of East Asian Libraries: Vol. 2011 : No. 152 , Article 5.

Available at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/jeal/vol2011/iss152/5>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Journals at BYU ScholarsArchive. It has been accepted for inclusion in Journal of East Asian Libraries by an authorized editor of BYU ScholarsArchive. For more information, please contact scholarsarchive@byu.edu, ellen_amatangelo@byu.edu.

BIBLIOGRAPHY OF THE PUBLISHED WRITINGS

OF

WARREN M. TSUNEISHI (1921-2011)

Compiled and Edited by

Frank Joseph Shulman

Bibliographer, Editor and Consultant for Reference Publications in Asian Studies

Intended to provide librarians and scholars around the world with further information about his distinguished career, his various accomplishments in library and information science, and his scholarly contributions, this chronologically arranged, partially annotated bibliography is an extensive but not exhaustive listing of Warren Michio Tsuneishi's publications and some of his interviews from 1948 through 2007. It was compiled primarily on the basis of a brief examination of many of the books, edited volumes, journal articles and book reviews that are cited below and a search of four secondary sources: the Bibliography of Asian Studies (BAS), the catalogue of the Library of Congress, the Wilson Web, and WorldCat. It does not, however, list any of the unpublished reports that he wrote during his tenure as Curator of the Far Eastern Collections (1953-1957) and the East Asian Collection (1960-1966) at Yale University Library and as Chief of the Orientalia/Asian Division (1966-1978, 1989-1993) and Director for Area Studies (1978-1989) at the Library of Congress. Likewise, most of his contributions to the Library of Congress Information Bulletin between the mid-1960s and the early 1990s are not listed because they could not be identified in time. The Appendix contains citations to a handful of the unpublished papers that were presented at regional, national and international conferences over the years.

Acknowledgments: This bibliography includes information contributed by Kenneth W. Berger, Ellen H. Hammond, Anchi Hoh, Gail King, Mari Nakahara, Ming-sun Poon, Anna Leon Shulman, Ding Ye, and the University of Maryland College Park Libraries.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"An Essay on Yugen: Annotated Translation of Yugen-ron by Dr. Onishi Yoshinori".
Master's essay, Department of Chinese and Japanese, Columbia University, 1948.
xxi, 77p.

An annotated translation of the first part of Yûgen to aware [Profoundness and Sorrow] by Ônishi Yoshinori (1888-1959) (Tôkyô: Iwanami Shoten, 1939. 259p.).
Available at the Rare Book Library, Columbia University, call number COA F48 v.138.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

Review of Nihon shakaishi [Social History of Japan], by Takikawa Masajirô (Tôkyô, 1938). Far Eastern Quarterly 9, no.3 (May 1950): 353-55.

Tsuneishi, W.

"Japanese Art". Yale University Library Gazette 27, no.3 (Jan. 1952): 171-72.

On Yale University's acquisition of a significant collection of Japanese art. Written while Tsuneishi served as a cataloger and research associate (1950-1952) at Yale University Library.

Tsuneishi, Warren Michio.

"The Japanese Emperor: A Study in Constitutional and Political Change".

Ph.D. dissertation, Department of Political Science, Yale University, 1961.

vii, 296p.

Dissertation supervisor: Professor Chitoshi Yanaga.

Abstracted in Dissertation Abstracts 27, no.6 (Dec. 1966): 1884-A; and in The Allied Occupation of Japan, 1945-1952: An Annotated Bibliography of Western-Language Materials, compiled and edited by Robert E. Ward and Frank J. Shulman (Chicago: American Library Association, 1974): 423.

Available from University Microfilms International (Ann Arbor, Michigan), order number: 66-12,883.

Also included in the ProQuest Digital Dissertations database (Ann Arbor, Michigan).

Focuses on the changes that occurred during the 1930s and the 1940s.

Table of Contents: 1. Introduction: The Final Imperial Conference of August 14, 1945. 2. Historical and Constitutional Background. 3. The Political Background: The Supreme Council for the Decision of War and Its Predecessors. 4. Imperial Decisions of the Showa Period (1926-). 5. The Final Imperial Conferences. 6. Political and Constitutional Reform, Part 1. 7. Political and Constitutional Reform, Part 2. 8. The Emperor as Symbol: His Constitutional Role. 9. Changing Attitudes towards the Emperor. 10. Conclusion. Appendices: A-E. Bibliography.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"Acquisition of Library Materials from China, Japan and Korea". Library Resources and Technical Services (Chicago) 7, no.1 (Winter 1963): 28-33.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

Japanese Political Style: An Introduction to the Government and Politics of Modern Japan.

New York: Harper and Row, 1966. viii, 226p. (Harper's comparative government series)

Table of Contents: 1. Socioeconomic Determinants of Japanese Politics. 2. National Foundations. 3. Executive Style: The Governing Process. 4. Executive Style: Administration. 5. The National Diet: Functions, Organization, Representation. 6. The National Diet in Action. 7. Party Politics. 8. Political Economy. 9. Constitutional Revision. 10. Recent Trends in Law and Local Government. 11. Foreign Relations. Selected Readings.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"Bibliographical Controls and Professional Librarianship: A Question of Strategy?" Library Resources on East Asia: Reports and Working Papers for the Tenth Annual Meeting of the Committee on American Library Resources on the Far East, Association for Asian Studies, Inc., Chicago, March 21, 1967 (Zug, Switzerland: Inter Documentation Company, 1968): 57-63.

Discusses the need for providing coverage of East Asian-language materials in such catalogs and guides as the Union List of Serials and the National Union Catalog: Author List; criticizes CJK librarians for "remaining outside the mainstream of American librarianship, seeking particularistic solutions to their specialized problems"; and calls for their active participation in such projects as the National Register of Microform Masters and the National Serials Data Program.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"Report of Mission to Japan". Farmington Plan Newsletter (Washington, D.C.: Association of Research Libraries) no.27 (May 1968): 4-6.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"Some Aspects of East Asian Bibliography". Farmington Plan Newsletter (Washington, D.C.: Association of Research Libraries) no.28 (Oct. 1968): 4-7.

Corrigenda and addenda: no.29 (May 1969): 27.

Essentially a bibliographical listing of the accession lists and specialized catalogs of library holdings for eight North American library collections.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"East Asian Collections". Farmington Plan Newsletter (Washington, D.C.: Association of Research Libraries) no.31 (May 1970): 25-33.

Discusses the current status of monographic and serial holdings in North American library collections.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

Review of The Failure of Freedom: A Portrait of Modern Japanese Intellectuals, by Tatsuo Arima (Cambridge, Mass.: Harvard University Press, 1969).

Journal of Asian Studies 30, no.1 (Nov. 1970): 193-95.

Buckman, Thomas R., Yukihiisa Suzuki, and Warren M. Tsuneishi, eds.

University and Research Libraries in Japan and the United States: Proceedings of the First Japan-United States Conference on Libraries and Information Science in Higher Education, Tokyo, 15-19 May 1969. Chicago: American Library Association, 1972. ix, 299p.

Collection of papers contributed by over forty American and Japanese librarians and scholars.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"Exchange of Librarians: Past Practice and Future Prospects". University and Research Libraries in Japan and the United States: Proceedings of the First Japan-United States Conference on Libraries and Information Science in Higher Education, Tokyo, 15-19 May 1969, edited by Thomas R. Buckman, Yukihiisa Suzuki, and Warren M. Tsuneishi (Chicago: American Library Association, 1972): 164-74.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"Impact on American Libraries of Current Trends in Oriental Area Studies". International Co-operation in Orientalist Librarianship: Papers Presented at the Library Seminars, 28 International Congress of Orientalists, Canberra, 6-12 January 1971, edited by Enid Bishop and Jean M. Waller (Canberra: National Library of Australia for the Library Seminars Planning Committee, 1972): 83-102.

Note: Includes brief survey information about U.S. library resources on East Asia during the period 1950-1970.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"Staffing of Oriental Language Collections in American Libraries".

Language and International Studies: Georgetown University Round Table on Languages and Linguistics 1973, edited by Kurt R. Jankowsky (Washington, D.C.: Georgetown University Press, 1973): 145-56.

Discusses the functional organization of library collections in East Asian, Southeast Asian, South Asian and Middle Eastern languages; their staffing by subject specialists; the language and graduate-level area studies training of such librarians; and the linguistic skills that are needed. Also touches upon the PL 480 program and the operation of a National Program for Acquisitions and Cataloging (NPAC) by the Library of Congress.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"Prospects for Cooperation between Libraries in the United States and Japan in the 1970's". Foreign Acquisitions Newsletter (Washington, D.C.: Association of Research Libraries) no.39 (Spring 1974): 9-15.

First presented at the Annual Meeting of the Association for Asian Studies in Chicago, Illinois (March 30-April 1, 1973), this paper discusses the cooperation that had resulted in a number of publications including the proceedings of the First Japan-U.S. Conference on Libraries, two issues of the U.S.-Japan Library Newsletter, and Theodore Welch's book, Toshokan: Libraries in Japanese Society; binational exchanges and visits by librarians; and the National Diet Library's (NDL) sharing of bibliographic data for currently published Japanese monographs with the Library of Congress. It also highlights the financial support provided by the Japan Foundation, the Japanese American Friendship Act, and the Japan World Exposition Commemorative Association, and the implementation of a number of proposals including the development of a Japan Documentation Center in the United States and NDL's production of microfiche copies of Japanese government documents.

Tsuneishi, Warren M., Thomas R. Buckman, and Yukihiisa Suzuki, eds.

Issues in Library Administration: Papers Presented at the Second United States-Japan Conference on Libraries and Information Science in Higher Education, Racine, Wisconsin, October 17-20, 1972. New York and London: Columbia University Press, 1974. x, 181p.

Collection of twelve papers, including six on libraries in Japan, contributed by Lester Asheim, Frederick Burkhardt, Warren J. Haas, Toshio Iwasaru, Akira Koizumi, Herman Liebaers, John P. McDonald, Rutherford D. Rogers, Nobuya Takagi, Masao Takatori, Robert Vosper, and Mikio Yasuda. The papers are grouped under five broad topics: the impact on libraries of university reform and possible new structures in higher education; the role and status of university library directors; organization and decision-making in research libraries; library personnel; and interlibrary cooperation.

Cary, Otis, ed.

War-Wasted Asia: Letters, 1945-46. Tokyo and New York: Kodansha International, 1975. 322p. Reprinted as From a Ruined Empire: Letters--Japan, China, Korea, 1945-46. Tokyo: Kodansha International, 1984. 322p. Revised edition: Eyewitness to History: The First Americans in Postwar Asia, edited by Otis Cary. Tokyo and New York: Kodansha International, 1995. 325p.

Collection of thirty-nine letters and personal narratives by Wm. Theodore de Bary, Richard K. Beardsley, Otis Cary, Donald Keene, Hisashi Kubota, Sherwood R. Moran, David L. Osborn, Warren Tsuneishi, and Frank L. Turner in the immediate aftermath of World War II. Entitled "From Warren Tsuneishi in Seoul to Don Keene in Guam", September 12, 1945 (pages 26-34), Tsuneishi's one letter tells what happened to him in Inchon and Seoul, where he was serving as a Japanese-language interpreter, and the reactions of the Koreans with whom he spoke to their liberation from Japanese colonial rule.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"Romanization of Oriental Languages in American Libraries".

International Congress of Orientalists (29th, Paris, 1973). Bibliothèques, bibliographies, documentation: actes du XXIXe Congrès international des orientalistes [Libraries, Bibliographies, Documentation: Records of the 29th International Congress of Orientalists]. Section organisée par Oreste Toutzevitch et Pierre Barkan (Paris: L'Asiathèque, 1976): 58-60.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"Emerging Issues in National Resource Sharing: The Case of Japanese Collections".

Association for Asian Studies. Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin no.57 (Oct. 1978): 17-32.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"Emerging Issues in National Resource Sharing: The Case of Japanese Collections".

Workshop for Japanese Collection Librarians in American Research Libraries, August 28-30, 1978, Sponsored by the Japan-U.S. Friendship Commission; Coordinated by the Association of Research Libraries, Office of Management Studies (Washington, D.C.: Association of Research Libraries, Office of Management Studies, 1979): 66-83. Followed by Comments by Kenneth K. Tanaka and Ernest J. Tsai on pages 84-89.

Addresses such issues as the need for an in-depth analysis of existing collections, an in-depth study of their "actual and potential" clientele, improvements in interlibrary sharing, the development of the capability to process Chinese and Japanese texts by computer, the compilation of a master list of serials, the creation of a National Periodicals Center, the control of Japanese government documents, and the establishment of an East Asian Microform Program under the auspices of the Center for Research Libraries in Chicago.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"East Asian Library Cooperation in North America: A View from the Library of Congress". Cooperation among East Asian Libraries: Wason Collection Sixtieth Anniversary Conference, edited by Paul P. W. Cheng (Ithaca, N.Y.: Cornell University Libraries, 1979): 69-93.

Kim, Hong N.

Scholars' Guide to Washington, D.C. for East Asian Studies (China, Japan, Korea, and Mongolia). Consultants: Frank Joseph Shulman and Warren M. Tsuneishi.

Washington, D.C.: Smithsonian Institution Press, 1979. xiv, 413p. (Scholars' guide to Washington, D.C., no.3)

Annotated guide to collections (libraries, archives and manuscript depositories; museums, galleries and art collections; collections of music and other sound recordings; map collections; film and still-picture collections; data banks) and organizations (associations, cultural exchange organizations, U.S. government agencies, foreign government agencies and international organizations, research centers and academic programs, publications and media).

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"U.S. Librarians Visit the People's Republic of China".

Association for Asian Studies. Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin no.61 (Feb. 1980): 50-53.

On the visit by twelve librarians representing the American Library Association, the Association of Research Libraries, the Association for Asian Studies and the Library of Congress to sixteen libraries in Beijing, Guangzhou, Nanjing, Shanghai and Xi'an, September 10-30, 1979.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"The Library of Congress and Asian Collections". Association for Asian Studies. Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin no.62 (June 1980): 13-17.

Covers the Library's acquisitions from Asia, the National Union Catalog, minimal level cataloging, East Asian automation, the conversion to AACR 2 (Anglo-American Cataloging Rules 2), and the systems for Romanizing Asian languages.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"Orientalist Libraries in the U.S.: Emerging Issues in Information Exchange".

Association for Asian Studies. Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin no.65 (June 1981): 31-39.

On the development of national bibliographic controls and the "rationalization of local collection development policies with the objective of cooperatively creating an interlinked national library resource accessible to scholars throughout the United States".

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

Review of Survey of Japanese Collections in the United States, by Naomi Fukuda (Ann Arbor: Center for Japanese Studies, University of Michigan, 1980).

Association for Asian Studies. Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin no.66 (Oct. 1981): 67-68.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"Preservation of East Asian Language Materials at the Library of Congress".

Association for Asian Studies. Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin nos.70-71 (Feb.-June 1983): 1-6.

First presented as a conference paper at the panel "Preserving East Asian Library and Archival Resources within the Mid-Atlantic States Region", Eleventh Annual Meeting of the Mid-Atlantic Region/Association for Asian Studies, University of Pittsburgh, October 23, 1982.

An overview of the efforts of the Library's Asian Division to bind, microfilm and conserve its very extensive Chinese, Japanese and Korean-language monographic and serial holdings in the humanities and the social sciences. Includes the preparation of periodicals and softcover books for binding, the preservation microfilming of modern Japanese books and the publications of the South Manchuria Railway Company, and the development of methods to halt the deterioration of acidic book paper.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"Asian and African Section". Library of Congress Information Bulletin (Washington, D.C.) 43 (Sept. 10, 1984): 296.

American Library Association conference, 1984.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"From My Perspective: The President's Message". International Association of Orientalists Bulletin nos.24-25 (1984): 2-3.

In his role as the president (1983-1991) of the International Association of Orientalist Librarians, Tsuneishi briefly discusses the purpose and accomplishments of the IAOL and asks whether it has "outlived its usefulness" as a voluntary organization.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"LC Delegation Visits Chinese Libraries". Library of Congress Information Bulletin (Washington, D.C.) 43 (Sept. 24, 1984): 312-14.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"The Library of Congress and Asian Studies". Areas of Cooperation in Library Development in Asian and Pacific Regions: Papers Presented at the 1983 Joint Annual Program of the Asian/Pacific American Librarians Association and Chinese-American Librarians Association, June 28-29, 1983, Los Angeles, California, edited by Sally C. Tseng, Hwa-Wei Lee and K. Mulliner (Athens, Ohio: Chinese-American Librarians Association for the Asian/Pacific American Librarians Association and Chinese-American Librarians Association; distributed by Ohio University Libraries, 1985): 33-39.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"U.S.-China Exchange of Librarians". The ALA Yearbook of Library and Information Services (Chicago: American Library Association) 10 (1985): 161-63.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"Directors of National Libraries Met in Sri Lanka to Discuss Resource Sharing in Asia and Oceania". Library of Congress Information Bulletin (Washington, D.C.) 45 (Jan. 20, 1986): 35-38.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"East Asian Collections in North American Libraries: Some Recent Developments in Cooperation". International Association of Orientalist Librarians Bulletin, nos.28-29 (1986): 3-11.

First presented at the 32nd International Congress of Asian and North African Studies in Hamburg, West Germany (August 1986), this paper describes major developments under two headings: "Resource Sharing" and "Bibliographic Control". It includes Tsuneishi's remarks regarding the aims of the national acquisitions project of the Library of Congress, the conspectus of the Association of Research Libraries, and the microfilm cooperation project of the Center for Research Libraries (CRL) as well as about progress in CJK automation, the difficulties that had been encountered (e.g., in the formulation of interchange codes, the design of computer terminals, and word separation in Chinese, Japanese and Korean), and the cataloging of East Asian-language publications on both OCLC and RLIN.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"Joint Program on Asian and African Collections". Library of Congress Information Bulletin (Washington, D.C.) 45 (Aug. 25, 1986): 301-02.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"Obituary: Chitoshi Yanaga (1903-1985)".

Journal of Asian Studies 45, no.3 (May 1986): 668.

Japanese American "specialist on the inner workings of Japanese politics and government" and the author of such books as Japan since Perry (1st edition, 1949), Japanese People and Politics (1956), and Big Business in Japanese Politics (1968). Yanaga directed Tsuneishi's Ph.D. dissertation at Yale University.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"Reports from Two Conferences on Asia and North Africa". Library of Congress Information Bulletin (Washington, D.C.) 45 (Dec. 8, 1986): 398-400.

On the International Congress for Asian and North African Studies and the International Association of Orientalist Librarians.

Kobayashi, Key K., Warren Tsuneishi, and Philip Nagao.

"Translation Bibliographies, Journals, and Centers".

Multiple Meanings: The Written Word in Japan, Past, Present, and Future: A Selection of Papers on Japanese Language and Culture and Their Translation Presented at the Library of Congress, edited by J. Thomas Rimer (Washington, D.C.: Library of Congress, 1986): 104-108.

This edited volume is a collection of papers from two symposia sponsored by the Center for the Book and the Asian Division of the Library of Congress.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"Bei Mei tu shu guan Dong Ya guan cang zhi he zuo fa zhan jin kuang" [Text in Chinese: East Asian Collections in North American Libraries: Some Recent Developments in Cooperation], translated by Wu Kuan. Tu shu guan xue yu zi xun ke xue [Journal of Library and Information Science] (Taipei: Guo li Taiwan shi fan da xue, she hui jiao yu xue xi [Taipei: National Taiwan Normal University]) 13 (Oct. 1987): 199-209. <http://jlis.glis.ntnu.edu.tw/ojs/index.php/jlis/article/viewFile/205/205>

Translation of a paper that was initially presented at the 32nd International Congress of Asian and North African Studies, Hamburg, West Germany, in August 1986 and subsequently published in the International Association of Orientalist Librarians Bulletin, nos.28-29 (1986) [see the entry above].

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"New ALA [American Library Association] Programs to Promote Cooperation with Libraries and Librarians in Soviet Union and Japan". International Leads (Madison, Wisconsin) 1 (Winter 1987): 1-2.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"Report from an International Symposium on the Staffing of Academic Libraries in the Computer Age, Kyoto, Japan". Library of Congress Information Bulletin (Washington, D.C.) 47 (May 30, 1988): 219-20.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"The Library of Congress and East Asian Collections".

International Association of Orientalist Librarians Bulletin (Hong Kong) nos.36-37 (1990): 8-15.

Welch, Theodore F., Warren M. Tsuneishi, Mary F. Grosch, Haruo Kuroda, and Eiichi Kurahashi, eds.

Strengthening the U.S.-Japan Library Partnership in the Global Information Flow = Gurôbaru na jôhō ryûtsû ni mukete no Nichi-Bei daigaku toshokan kyôryoku no kyôka: Fourth U.S.-Japan Conference on Library and Information Science in Higher Education, Racine, Wisconsin, October 3-6, 1988. Chicago and London: American Library Association; Tokyo: Maruzen International, 1990. xiii, 182, 180p.

Collection of sixteen articles, the majority of which deal with Japan, written by Jun Adachi, Henriette D. Avram, Patricia Battin, Rowland C. W. Brown, John W. Haeger, Eiichi Kurahashi, Haruo Kuroda, Takayasu Miyakawa, Kimio Ohno, Masatoshi Shibukawa, Toru Sugawara, Kazuo Takahashi, Hisafumi Tanaka, Theodore F. Welch, and Hiro Yamasaki. The articles are concerned with such issues as database formation and services for scholarly information in Japan, the current status and problems of establishing a union catalog database in Japan, networking as an information resource in Japan, and the effect of science information systems on Japanese university libraries.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"International Congress of Asian and North African Studies (33d: 1990: Toronto)".

Association for Asian Studies. Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin no.92 (Feb. 1991): 30-31.

A brief report of the Congress with a focus on the seventeen papers that were presented at its five library panels.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"Obituary: Cecil Hobbs (1907-1991)".

Journal of Asian Studies 51, no.2 (May 1992): 472-73.

American scholar of Southeast Asian history and former head of the Southern Asia Section of the Orientalia (now Asian) Division of the Library of Congress.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"CEAL Fellowship Dinner". Association for Asian Studies. Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin no.96 (June 1992): 38-30.

A short report about the fellowship dinner in Washington, D.C., on April 2, 1992 that was held by librarians engaged in East Asia-related library work.

Shimizu, Tadao, Jiro Asano, Haruki Nagata, Warren M. Tsuneishi, Theodore F. Welch, and Hideo Kaneko, eds.

Japan-U.S. Collaboration in Enhancing International Access to Scholarly Information: Looking toward the 21st Century = Gakujutsu jôhôte no kokusaiteki akusesu kakudai no tame no Nichi-Bei kyôryoku: 21-seiki o mezashite: Fifth Japan-U.S. Conference on Libraries and Information Science in Higher Education, Tokyo, Japan, October 6-9, 1992. Tokyo: Universal Academy Press, 1993. xii, 297, xi, 326p.

Collection of papers contributed by over twenty American and Japanese librarians and information specialists including Jiro Asano, Henriette D. Avram, Amy Vladeck Heinrich, Hiroshi Inose, Stanley N. Katz, Beverly P. Lynch, Clifford A. Lynch, Takayasu Miyakawa, Akira Miyazawa, Masamitsu Negishi, Tadao Shimizu, Junjiro Takahashi, Hisafumi Tanaka, and Akio Yasue. The papers deal with such specific topics as the present state and future of computerization in Japanese university libraries, issues of human resource development in Japanese libraries, the NACSIS-CAT system and the NACSIS-CAT union catalog database, scientific and technical information transfer between Japan and the United States, and Japanese library resources in the United States.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"Librarians: Library of Congress: Richard C. Howard". Association for Asian Studies. Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin no.99 (June 1993): 145-47.

Biographical account of Richard C. Howard, a close colleague of Warren Tsuneishi, who served as Curator-Librarian of the Wason Collection on China at Cornell University (1963-1976), Assistant Chief and for a number of years Acting Chief of the Orientalia/Asian Division of the Library of Congress (1976-1992), Chairman of the Committee on East Asian Libraries (CEAL) (1982-1985), Editor of the Bibliography of Asian Studies of the Association for Asian Studies (1963-1970), and Associate Editor of the Biographical Dictionary of Republican China (Columbia University Press, 1967-71). Written to commemorate Howard's retirement from the Library of Congress in December 1992.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"The International Outreach of American Librarianship: Historical Notes on Some Initiatives in Asia".

Association for Asian Studies. Committee on East Asian Libraries Bulletin no.101 (Dec. 1993): 15-20.

"Introduces four activities relating generally to the outreach of American librarians to colleagues in Asia since the 1960s as examples of their international perspective. They were related to the organization of the International Association of Orientalist Librarians (IAOL) and to binational or multinational relations with libraries in China, Japan and Korea".

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"Military Intelligence Service in the War against Japan".

A talk presented by the Library of Congress Asian American Association. Recorded August 10, 1995, West Dining Room, Library of Congress.

One sound tape reel (60 minutes): analog, 7 1/2 ips, 2 track, mono., 10 inch. Recorded together with "Go for Broke" by Joe Ichiuji, another Japanese American veteran of World War II.

Available at the Library of Congress, call number RWD 7526.

Note: For a summary of these two presentations, see "Service on Two Fronts: Asian American Veterans Remember World War II", by Sharon Miller (Library of Congress Information Bulletin 54, no.18 (October 2, 1995) [<http://www.loc.gov/loc/lcib/9518/veterans.html>]).

Falk, Stanley L., and Warren M. Tsuneishi, eds.

MIS in the War against Japan: Personal Experiences Related at the 1993 MIS Capital Reunion, "The Nisei Veteran: An American Patriot". Vienna, Virginia: Japanese American Veterans Association of Washington, D.C., 1995. ix, 142p.

A collection of the personal recollections of nearly two dozen veterans who served in the Military Intelligence Service during World War II and the occupation of Japan—among them Faubion Bowers, Harry K. Fukuhara, Benjamin H. Hazard, Sunao Ishio, Roy H. Matsumoto, Allen H. Meyer, Arthur T. Morimitsu, Benjamin T. Obata, Peter K. Okada, Richard M. Sakakida, Ulrich Straus, James Yukio Tanabe, George Oakley Totten III, Toshio G. Tsukahira, and Roy T. Uyhata. A biographical sketch (with a photograph) of Tsuneishi appears on pages 131-32 and a second photograph of him—in the 306th HQ Intelligence Detachment, XXIV Corps, Leyte, the Philippines, on November 1, 1944—appears following page 142.

Tsuneishi, Warren M.

"Josephus Nelson Interviews Warren Tsuneishi about His Career at the Library of Congress".

Cassette recording: Reel-to-reel tape, 2001.

Two sound tape reels (3 hours, 30 minutes): analog, 7 1/2 ips, 2 track, mono., 1 inch.

Available at the Library of Congress, call numbers RGA 8239 (playback copy for part 1) and RGA 7571 (playback copy for part 2).

In this eighteenth recording for "Library Voices", the Library of Congress bicentennial oral history project, Tsuneishi "discusses his career at the Library of Congress beginning in 1957, when he came to the Library to head the Cataloging Department's newly created Far Eastern Languages Section. He left for Yale University in 1960 but returned to the Library in 1966 as Chief of the Orientalia Division and retired as Chief of the Asian Division in 1993".

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"Dr. Edwin G. Beal, Jr.: An Appreciation".

Journal of East Asian Libraries no.130 (June 2003): 72-73.

Remarks made at a memorial service held on January 25, 2003 in Mitchellville, Maryland. Beal was the first chairperson of the Committee on American Library Resources of the Far Eastern Association as well as a former member of the Orientalia (now Asian) Division of the Library of Congress who served in various capacities including Head of the Chinese and Korea Section, Head of the Japanese Section, and Assistant Chief of the Division.

Tsuneishi, Warren.

"From My Point of View, America Is a Nation in the Process of Trying to Live up to Its Dreams".

Video Interview (82 minutes).

Veterans History Project, Library of Congress, American Folklife Center, May 29, 2007.

<http://lcweb2.loc.gov/diglib/vhp/story/loc.natlib.afc2001001.02153/>

During World War II in the Pacific, Tsuneishi served in the 306th Headquarters, Intelligence Detachment, XXIV Corps of the U.S. Army, at the rank of Technical Sergeant. The complete interview is 82 minutes long. There are eleven clips of "interview highlights": on his brothers' involvement in the war effort, his studies at Syracuse University, his family's wartime relocation to Heart Mountain (a Japanese internment facility in Wyoming), his duties as a translator of captured Japanese documents (especially in the Philippines and Okinawa), his volunteering for the Military Intelligence Service Language School, his evasion of confinement, his split identity as a Japanese American, his dealings with the wartime image of the Japanese as cruel and barbaric, his experiences as an American knowing that Japanese is part of his emotional makeup, his visit to Dachau as a point of comparison, and the U.S. Army's inconsistent policy of dealing with Japanese American soldiers.

Appendix: Unpublished Conference Papers

Note: The following is based on Warren Tsuneishi's abbreviated curriculum vitae. This list is incomplete, and one or more of the papers below might have appeared somewhere in print.

"Preliminary Report on National Bibliographical Controls for East Asian Publications". Paper presented to the ACLS [American Council of Learned Societies] Steering Committee to Study Problems of East Asian Libraries, October 1975.

Note: Tsuneishi served as a member of the East Asian Libraries Steering Committee in 1975-1978.

"Acquiring Eastern Materials: The Experience of American Libraries". Paper presented at the IFLA [International Federation of Library Associations] Worldwide Seminar, Korea, June 1976.

"American Research Resources on Japan in the 1980s." Paper presented on the panel "Asian Studies in the 1980s: An Overview of Research, Resources, and Computerized Bibliographic Access" at the 20th Annual Meeting of the Southeast Conference/Association for Asian Studies, Lexington, Virginia, January 24, 1981.

"The International Sharing of Bibliographic Data: The East Asian Case". Paper presented at the 31st International Congress of Human Sciences in Asia and North Africa, Tokyo and Kyoto, August 31-September 7, 1983.

"The Library of Congress and Resources for the Study of Asia". Paper presented at the 3rd International Conference of Directors of National Libraries on Resources Sharing in Asia and Oceania, Colombo, Sri Lanka, November 1985.

"Scientific Information Systems and Academic Library Staffs in the U.S.: A Personal View". Paper presented at the International Symposium on Academic Librarianship in the Computer Age, Kyoto University of Foreign Studies, March 22-24, 1988.

"The Japanese Collection of the Library of Congress". Paper presented at the Third Regional Conference on Asia Libraries in the Midwest, Ann Arbor, Michigan, June 1-2, 1989.