Review

You might not know this, but dragons love tacos! All sorts of tacos both big and small. No one knows why dragons love tacos so much, but there is one ingredient that they hate: spicy salsa. If they eat spicy salsa their ears will smoke, their tummy rumbles, and it can be very dangerous. They love all of the normal toppings on their tacos, just not spicy salsa. If you ever host a taco party for dragons you will need lots of tacos to feed them all. In this case, the dragons accidentally ate the spicy salsa on their tacos! It was disastrous! Thank goodness the dragons are good builders to fix up the mess they made.

Dragons Love Tacos will be an instant hit with any child. Each picture is filled with colors and fun images of dragons to look at. This book is so silly and light-hearted that it will entertain children while they learn the very funny rules to dragons and their tacos. It is a great read for all children—simple, but very fun.
