Review

There are yellow animals in the air, on the land, and in the water. Yellow is a primary color, that means you can't make yellow by mixing other colors. Read and learn about all different types of beautiful yellow animals in ABDO Kid's Animal Colors series.

This book talks simply and briefly about colors. It then talks about a few animals that are yellow in each category: air, land, and water. The sentences are very simple and the photographs are stunning. Only very yellow and completely yellow animals are used. Some other facts about the animals are included in the book. In the back of the book there are more facts about how yellow animals use their color to their advantage. There is also a glossary for some of the harder words included in bold in the books text.
