

2018

No Fair! No Fair: And Other Jolly Poems of Childhood

Kathryn Page

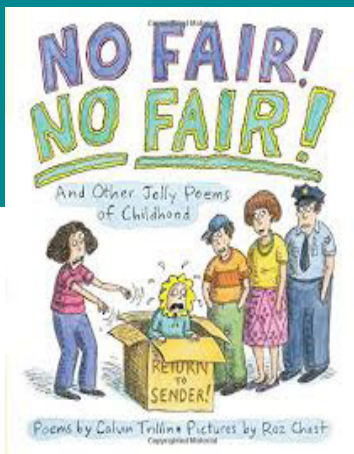

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/cbmr>

BYU ScholarsArchive Citation

Page, Kathryn (2018) "No Fair! No Fair: And Other Jolly Poems of Childhood," Children's Book and Media Review: Vol. 39 : Iss. 1 , Article 57.

Available at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/cbmr/vol39/iss1/57>

This Book Review is brought to you for free and open access by the All Journals at BYU ScholarsArchive. It has been accepted for inclusion in Children's Book and Media Review by an authorized editor of BYU ScholarsArchive. For more information, please contact scholarsarchive@byu.edu, ellen_amatangelo@byu.edu.

Book Review

No Fair! No Fair: And Other Jolly Poems of Childhood

These short poems are all about childhood and growing up. No Fair No Fair shares poems about learning how to tie shoes, the different students in the classroom, eating, family, school complaints, and much more. These poems will have the reader laughing and thinking back on their own childhood, and the children will find it fun to relate so much with their own lives.

The poems in this book are roughly a full page in length. There are rhyming schemes throughout all the poems. The poems are very relatable to children and adults. Each page shares a different story that can either be hilarious or very realistic. This book of poems is highly recommended for children who enjoy funny stories that can be read in a nice rhythm and who enjoy poems about being young. The prose is excellent and the words used in these poem stories are readable for many age groups.

Author

Calvin Trillin

Illustrator

Roz Chast

Reviewer

Kathryn Page

Rating

Excellent

Level

Primary, Intermediate

Pages

28

Year

2016

Publisher

Orchard Books

ISBN

9780545817844