

2018

My Big Fat Zombie Goldfish: The Seaquel

Kaley Durney

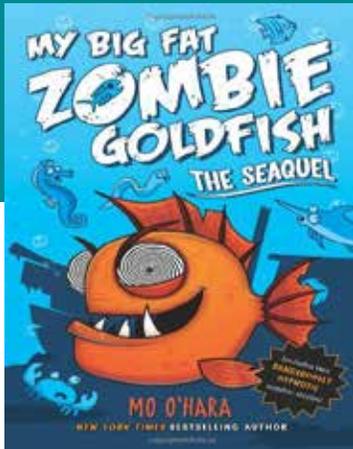

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/cbmr>

BYU ScholarsArchive Citation

Durney, Kaley (2018) "My Big Fat Zombie Goldfish: The Seaquel," Children's Book and Media Review. Vol. 39 : Iss. 4 , Article 7.

Available at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/cbmr/vol39/iss4/7>

This Book Review is brought to you for free and open access by the Journals at BYU ScholarsArchive. It has been accepted for inclusion in Children's Book and Media Review by an authorized editor of BYU ScholarsArchive. For more information, please contact scholarsarchive@byu.edu, ellen_amatangelo@byu.edu.

Book Review

My Big Fat Zombie Goldfish: The Seaquel

Author

Mo O'Hara

Illustrator

Marek Jagucki

Reviewer

Kaley Durney

Rating

Outstanding

Level

Primary

This book has two stories. In the first, Tom's dad takes Tom, his brother Mark, his friend Pradeep, and Pradeep's family to go Eel Bay. While staying at a lighthouse, Mark has an evil plan to capture an eel and turn it into a zombie. Mark's plan sort of works when lightning strikes the lighthouse and turns it into an electric eel. In the end, Tom and Pradeep save the eel and help turn him from evil. The second story is about Tom and Pradeep auditioning for the school play. Pradeep gets the main lead and Tom gets a supporting cast part. Mark has an evil plan, and Frankie ends up taking center stage to save the school play.

The stories in this book are so much fun! It's nice that this book is split into two stories because it will help keep the reader interested. The second story has more of a moral than the first. The play teaches a lesson about friendship. It demonstrates that you can still be friends even though you have differences and do different things. It also teaches that everyone is important. This book is very well written and will keep those young readers engaged and excited to keep reading. There are illustrations throughout the book, but it is mainly a chapter book with two completely different stories in it.

Pages

224

Year

2015

Publisher

Feiwel & Friends

ISBN

9781629724096