

2018

Flo

Sydnee Burr

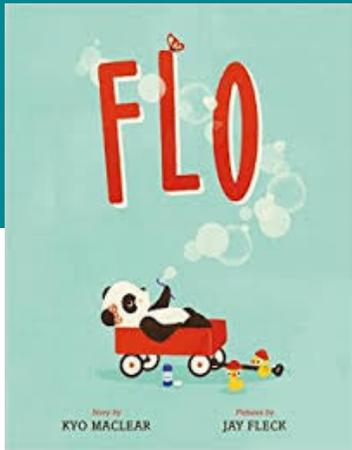

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/cbmr>

BYU ScholarsArchive Citation

Burr, Sydnee (2018) "Flo," Children's Book and Media Review: Vol. 39 : Iss. 6 , Article 35.

Available at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/cbmr/vol39/iss6/35>

This Book Review is brought to you for free and open access by the All Journals at BYU ScholarsArchive. It has been accepted for inclusion in Children's Book and Media Review by an authorized editor of BYU ScholarsArchive. For more information, please contact scholarsarchive@byu.edu, ellen_amatangelo@byu.edu.

Book Review

Flo

Flo is a little panda who likes to relax. She's never in a hurry, and loves to take her time adventuring along the way wherever she goes. She loves exploring, listening to music, and savoring every bite. Sometimes she's too slow though, and the other pandas grow impatient and ornery because they have to wait so long for her. However, when trouble strikes, it's Flo's laid back, funny ways that save the day.

The illustrations in this book are whimsical, heart warming, and fun! They're sure to attract young readers, and keep adults engaged as well. Maclear reminds readers that all personality types should be embraced, and that there are only different ways to live life, no wrong ways. However, one might be concerned that young minds would take too much to heart Flo's floppy ways, and mimic her lifestyle. While whimsical living is appropriate, and should be encouraged, for children, Flo borders on encouraging laziness, and insubordination. With that in mind, Flo is a fun story to read aloud, sure to make listeners bubble with giggles.

Author

Kyo Maclear

Illustrator

Jay Fleck

Reviewer

Sydnee Burr

Rating

Dependable

Level

Toddler

Pages

40

Year

2018

Publisher

Farrar, Straus and Giroux

ISBN

9780374305260