

2018

One Hundred Bones

Kristie Hinckley

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/cbmr>

BYU ScholarsArchive Citation

Hinckley, Kristie (2018) "One Hundred Bones," Children's Book and Media Review: Vol. 39 : Iss. 6 , Article 68.
Available at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/cbmr/vol39/iss6/68>

This Book Review is brought to you for free and open access by the All Journals at BYU ScholarsArchive. It has been accepted for inclusion in Children's Book and Media Review by an authorized editor of BYU ScholarsArchive. For more information, please contact scholarsarchive@byu.edu, ellen_amatangelo@byu.edu.

Book Review

One Hundred Bones

Author

Yuval Zommer

Illustrator

Reviewer

Kristie Hinckley

Rating

Excellent

Level

Preschool, Primary

Scruff is a dog who loves to dig and doesn't have an owner to tell him not to. His other dog friends judge him for it. One day, he finds a plethora of bones and invites all of his dog friends to help dig. They reluctantly agree. The bones are unlike any they have seen before! They take city transportation all the way to the National History Museum to inform Professor Dinovsky. He is thrilled the dogs found dinosaur bones and they become a famous museum exhibit. Scruff earns a place in Professor Dinovsky's heart and home and the "Top Digger" award!

One Hundred Bones takes place in London. The illustrations throughout the whole book are from the dog's perspective, so although there are humans in the story, the reader can only see humans from the neck down. Young dog lovers will enjoy the text and illustrations in this book. The illustrations were created digitally. Even the end pages are adorably covered in neatly arranged dinosaur bones. First graders, or other young readers, will enjoy counting by tens with the reader when this book is read aloud. Talking dogs, different types of transportation in London, and dog owners with funny names fill the pages of this book.

Pages

32

Year

2015

Publisher

Templar Books

ISBN

9780763681838