

2018

Santa Clauses: Short Poems from the North Pole

Makayla Anderson

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/cbmr>

BYU ScholarsArchive Citation

Anderson, Makayla (2018) "Santa Clauses: Short Poems from the North Pole," Children's Book and Media Review: Vol. 39 : Iss. 6 , Article 77.

Available at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/cbmr/vol39/iss6/77>

This Book Review is brought to you for free and open access by the All Journals at BYU ScholarsArchive. It has been accepted for inclusion in Children's Book and Media Review by an authorized editor of BYU ScholarsArchive. For more information, please contact scholarsarchive@byu.edu, ellen_amatangelo@byu.edu.

Book Review

Santa Clauses: Short Poems from the North Pole

After Mrs. Clause gives Santa a book of haiku poems, he decides to write some of his own. For every day in December, Santa composes a new haiku. Santa describes different aspects of his life throughout the North pole. These traditional Japanese poems take the reader on a journey with Santa to discover all of the many tasks to be done in the month of December. From playing in the snow to delivering presents, Santa's work is never done.

This compilation of Haiku poems is a unique countdown to Christmas. Originally Haiku poems were created to focus on different aspects of nature, but this only applies to a few of the poems in this book. The poems are clever but might be hard for young children to understand. However, the suggested age level given for this book is five to nine years old. All of the illustrations are well done and add greatly to the text.

Author

Bob Raczka

Illustrator

Chuck Groenink

Reviewer

Makayla Anderson

Rating

Significant Shortcom-

Level

Preschool, Primary

Pages

31

Year

2014

Publisher

Carolrhoda Books

ISBN

9781467718059