

2018

SPACEPOP #1: Not Your Average Princesses

Jazmin Gomez

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/cbmr>

BYU ScholarsArchive Citation

Gomez, Jazmin (2018) "SPACEPOP #1: Not Your Average Princesses," Children's Book and Media Review. Vol. 39 : Iss. 10 , Article 73.

Available at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/cbmr/vol39/iss10/73>

This Book Review is brought to you for free and open access by the Journals at BYU ScholarsArchive. It has been accepted for inclusion in Children's Book and Media Review by an authorized editor of BYU ScholarsArchive. For more information, please contact scholarsarchive@byu.edu, ellen_amatangelo@byu.edu.

Book Review

SPACEPOP #1: Not Your Average Princesses

Author

Erin Downing

Illustrator

Jen Bartel

Reviewer

Jazmin Gomez

Rating

Excellent

Level

Primary, Intermediate

When the evil Empress Geela kidnaps their parents and takes over their planets, the five princesses of the Pentangle are forced into hiding. Not content to quietly bide their time, Princesses Athena, Rhea, Juno, Luna, and Hera go undercover. They form a band to fight back in their own way and spread a message of hope. As their fan base grows, they team up with The Resistance to carry out missions that weaken Geela's position. Though they are successful in their first battles, it's only the beginning of the war, and the princesses prepare to continue the fight for their families and for their homes.

As the first volume in the SPACEPOP series, the book introduces each of the five princesses and their unique personalities well. They are all very different and don't get along right away. As the story progresses though, they learn to work together as a team. Not much is known about the book's villain, but whether her backstory and character's development will unfold in future books remains to be seen. The illustrations in the book's two inserts are bold, colorful, and add an extra dimension of fun to a story that is entertaining, humorous, and witty.

Pages

216

Year

2016

Publisher

Imprint

ISBN

9781250102270