Olive & Pekoe in Four Short Walks

Nan Rao

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/cbmr

BYU ScholarsArchive Citation
Available at: https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/cbmr/vol40/iss3/172

This Book Review is brought to you for free and open access by the All Journals at BYU ScholarsArchive. It has been accepted for inclusion in Children's Book and Media Review by an authorized editor of BYU ScholarsArchive. For more information, please contact scholarsarchive@byu.edu, ellen_amatangelo@byu.edu.
Olive & Pekoe in Four Short Walks

Best friends sometimes cannot be more opposite, and that certainly is true for the four-legged best buddies Olive and Pekoe. The book tells four little stories of the walks they go on. Olive is old, wise, and prefers resting around comfortably. Pekoe is lively, young, and loves to chase animals and is still sometimes unsure about the world. But that certainly does not prevent these two from enjoying each other’s company. They go on walks in the woods, not necessarily in inclement weather, surrounded by nature and visit the dog park.

The book is great for beginning level readers, and likely to be especially enjoyable for those who may also have a furry four-legged friend that act just like Olive or Pekoe. It shows the readers the quirky and loving personalities two best friends may have through four little adventures they go on. The stories teach young readers a little lesson about appreciating the differences in each other and forming wonderful friendships. The illustrations offer endearing details that brings the characters more to life.

Book Review
Olive & Pekoe in Four Short Walks

Best friends sometimes cannot be more opposite, and that certainly is true for the four-legged best buddies Olive and Pekoe. The book tells four little stories of the walks they go on. Olive is old, wise, and prefers resting around comfortably. Pekoe is lively, young, and loves to chase animals and is still sometimes unsure about the world. But that certainly does not prevent these two from enjoying each other’s company. They go on walks in the woods, not necessarily in inclement weather, surrounded by nature and visit the dog park.

The book is great for beginning level readers, and likely to be especially enjoyable for those who may also have a furry four-legged friend that act just like Olive or Pekoe. It shows the readers the quirky and loving personalities two best friends may have through four little adventures they go on. The stories teach young readers a little lesson about appreciating the differences in each other and forming wonderful friendships. The illustrations offer endearing details that brings the characters more to life.

Author
Jacky Davis & Giselle Potter

Illustrator
Giselle Potter

Reviewer
Nan Rao

Rating
Excellent

Level
Toddler, Preschool

Pages
34

Year
2019

Publisher
HarperCollins Publisher

ISBN 9780062573100