

2020

How to Apologize

Raechel Hornfischer

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/cbmr>

BYU ScholarsArchive Citation

Hornfischer, Raechel (2020) "How to Apologize," Children's Book and Media Review. Vol. 41: Iss. 11, Article 10.

Available at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/cbmr/vol41/iss11/10>

This Book Review is brought to you for free and open access by the Journals at BYU ScholarsArchive. It has been accepted for inclusion in Children's Book and Media Review by an authorized editor of BYU ScholarsArchive. For more information, please contact ellen_amatangelo@byu.edu.

Book Review

How to Apologize

Author

David LaRochelle

Illustrator

Mike Wohnoutka

Reviewer

Raechel Hornfischer

.....

Rating

Outstanding

Level

Toddler, Preschool,
Primary

.....

Pages

36

Year

2021

ISBN

9781536209440

Publisher

Candlewick Press

Whether it's a beaver accidentally chopping down an owl's tree, a giraffe borrowing a worm's socks without permission, or a cat dropping their kite in a dog's yard, everyone needs to know how to apologize. Apologizing can be hard. Sometimes what we did was an accident. Sometimes the person we hurt is scary or mean. Sometimes they owe us an apology too. Even so, any time we hurt someone, we need to say we're sorry. Apologies can be simple or long, in person or on a note. Then you can try to fix the mistake or at least do your best to make sure it doesn't happen again. So long as you don't make excuses and you are sincere, your apology will make you feel better and, more importantly, make the person you hurt feel better.

Everyone needs to know how to apologize, so this clever book illustrates dozens of hilarious apology scenarios. The goofy images and examples of bad apologies are entertaining. The lessons learned are heartfelt and sincere, and readers can see how to apologize and why we do it even in tough situations. This is a great book to learn an important life lesson in a fun and lighthearted way.