

Sigma: Journal of Political and International Studies

Volume 20

Article 8

12-1-2002

About the *Sigma*Staff

Sigma: Journal of Political and International Studies

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/sigma>

Recommended Citation

Studies, Sigma: Journal of Political and International (2002) "About the *Sigma*Staff," Sigma: Journal of Political and International Studies: Vol. 20, Article 8.

Available at: <https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/sigma/vol20/iss1/8>

This End Matter is brought to you for free and open access by the All Journals at BYU ScholarsArchive. It has been accepted for inclusion in Sigma: Journal of Political and International Studies by an authorized editor of BYU ScholarsArchive. For more information, please contact scholarsarchive@byu.edu, ellen_amatangelo@byu.edu.

ABOUT THE SIGMA STAFF

Robin Buck is a freshman and an international politics major.

Mark Champoux is a sophomore from Lee's Summit, Missouri, majoring in political science. His plans include graduate studies in foreign policy.

Jennifer P. Johnson, from McLean, Virginia, is a junior majoring in international politics with minors in business management and art history. She is president of BYU's chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha, enjoys photography, and plans to attend graduate school.

Katie Kelly is from Hood River, Oregon. She is a junior majoring in political science. She enjoys Piña Colodas and getting caught in the rain. After graduating she plans on being a snowboard-bum in Colorado and eventually going to law school.

Andrea Lewis will graduate in April 2003 with a degree in English and a minor in Chinese studies. She lived in Hong Kong and Beijing, China, for several years before coming to BYU and is happy to call Beijing home.

Jeff Makin is a political science major from Pleasant Grove, Utah. He plans on attending law school after graduation and aspires to be a judge.

David Martin, a junior in political science, is from Magna, Utah, and plans to attend law school. He served a mission in Novosibirsk, Russia, enjoys rock climbing, and Latin dance.

Sean O'Neill is from West Jordan, Utah, and is a senior in political science (American politics emphasis). He is married to the former Michelle Culler from Farmington, New Mexico, and his future plans include law school.

Laura Roberge is from Englewood, Colorado. She is a sophomore majoring in international politics. She plans on going to law school after graduating from BYU.

R. Moriah Robertson is a junior majoring in political science and print journalism. She plans on pursuing a photojournalism degree in graduate school. She is from Hemet, California, and enjoys snowboarding, black-and-white photography, and involvement with mentoring programs.

Steven A. Snell is a freshman from Brookville, Pennsylvania. He is majoring in political science.

Becky Sorenson is a junior at BYU majoring in English with a minor in international studies. She is focusing in editing and is also the prose editor of Inscape, BYU literary magazine.

Rebecca Mckenzie Watt is a senior in international studies-development and is minoring in Asian studies.

Scott A. Wilson is a senior from Quantico, Virginia, majoring in international studies with a Latin American studies minor. He plans to graduate in December 2002 and attend law school somewhere back East.