Subscription Renewal Time

The BYU Children's Book Review will begin its 12th year in September 1989. The Elementary Education Department has generously subsidized our efforts as we built our list of subscribers. However, even with our gradual increase in subscriptions, we are not quite breaking even. So, for the first time in our twelve-year history we will raise our subscription rates to $8.00 for one year, $15.00 for two years and $22.00 for three years.

Again, may we remind you of what makes our publication unique:

* The 25 reviewers represent a variety of backgrounds and disciplines and review books from the vantage point of their specialities.
* All of our reviewers are amateurs (remembering that amateur means lover of children’s literature). No professional would put up with what we have and still keep going.
* The use of trade books in the schools is a nation-wide trend and many of the books we review will stimulate and encourage young people to be life-long learners.
* Our reviewers read to, and with children, and relate their reviews to practical use with children and young adults.
* We critically analyze over 2,000 titles a year in our search for books that are good and beautiful and which we think will stand the test of time. We are concerned with the craft and quality of writing, and with consequences and ethics.
* We are the only source that does comprehensive reviewing of plays written for children.

The Children's Book Review is published five times annually. If you subscribe in the middle of the year, we simply mail to you the back issues (each subscription starts in September and ends in June).
