NEW IN PAPERBACK

Part IV

By James S. Jacobs

Following are more titles of books recently appearing in paperback, either for the first time, or after a long absence from the marketplace. All are recommended as decent reading. (Part I appeared in the September-October, 1989 issue of Children's Book Review; Part II, in November-December issue; Part III, in the January-February issue.)

Furlong, Monica. Wise Child. Borzoi Sprinters, 1989. ISBN 0-394-82598-5. 5+. $2.95. 228 pp. Wise Child, an abandoned girl, is forced to choose between her loyalties for the good woman who adopted her and her mother who returns and offers her a life of luxury.

Haynes, Betsy. Spies On The Devil's Belt. Scholastic, 1990. ISBN 0-590-40567-5. 4-6. $2.75. 158 pp. Jonathan wants to be a hero in the Revolutionary War, not an errand boy, so he decides to do something brave on his own.

Levine, Ellen. . . . If You Lived At the Time of Martin Luther King. Scholastic, 1990. ISBN 0-590-42582-X. 2-6. $2.95. 72 pp. First-hand look at the times and events experienced by Martin Luther King.

Pierce, Tamora. Alanna: The First Adventure. Borzoi Sprinters, 1989. ISBN 0-679-80114-6. 5+. $3.25. 231 pp. Disguised as a boy so she can become a knight, Alanna must choose between realizing her dream or revealing her magic power and her identity to save her friend.
