How to Paint the Portrait of a Bird

Kate Reynolds

Reviewer: Kate Reynolds
Reading Level: All
Rating: Excellent
Genre: Picture Books; Poetry;
Subject: Children's Poetry, French; Books--Reviews;

A young boy wakes up and sees a bright colored bird perched on his windowsill and decides to entice the bird into a painting, hoping that the bird will sing for him.

Translated and illustrated by Caldecott Medalist Gerstein, Prevert's whimsical poem comes alive, enticing the imagination of the reader into a simple story of nature and art. Gerstein's rich illustrations are expressive and detailed. This book will appeal to readers of any age.

Volume 28, no. 5 (May/June 2008)