2008

Someone for Mr. Sussman

Tessa McMillan

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/cbmr

BYU ScholarsArchive Citation

This Book Review is brought to you for free and open access by the All Journals at BYU ScholarsArchive. It has been accepted for inclusion in Children's Book and Media Review by an authorized editor of BYU ScholarsArchive. For more information, please contact scholarsarchive@byu.edu, ellen_amatangelo@byu.edu.

Reviewer: Tessa McMillan
Reading Level: Intermediate
Rating: Dependable
Genre: Humorous stories;
Subject: Grandmothers--Juvenile fiction; Dating services--fiction; Jews--United States--fiction; Books--Reviews;

Bubbie, Jerome's grandmother, is a shadkhen or Jewish matchmaker. She has found matches for difficult people. Mr. Sussman is the only customer she has not been able to find a match for. Jerome notices that every time Mr. Sussman comes over, Bubbie tries to impress him with the characteristics he wants in a woman. This goes on for quite some time until Bubbie gets frustrated that Mr. Sussman does not see her as his ideal match. After she tells him to never come back, he returns and finally begins to see that she is his ideal match.

Polacco creates another story where she introduces interesting Jewish traditions to readers. This story is enjoyable, but at times, a bit tedious. Readers realize that Bubbie is trying to be the perfect match for Mr. Sussman, but he does not realize it for quite some time. Elementary readers might not be able to handle length of the story, but middle grade readers might think the content is too juvenile.

Volume 29, no. 5 (May/June 2009)